OMEGA MISSION HILLS WORLD CUP

7 AM UPDATE

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 26 , 2009

Weather Synopsis

This morning, areas of light patchy fog have developed and should dissipate by mid morning. Cloudy skies to start then some sunny periods are likely throughout the day with temperatures reaching the mid 20s once again. Tonight, there will be a slight chance of seeing a passing shower but not expecting much precipitation if shower passes over. Friday, shower threat will linger until mid morning then mix of clouds and sunshine through the day. This weekend, ridge of high pressure will continue to dominate allowing for nice weather conditions. NE Monsoon will kick back in for the later part of the weekend giving us slightly cooler temperatures and drier weather conditions.
