9:00AM Weather Update: Friday, February 27, 2009

Synopsis: A ridge of high pressure over Mexico will provide another warm day across the area. There will be some high cloudiness blocking the sun at times this afternoon. Otherwise, a nice day can be expected. The high over Mexico will strengthen this weekend and will provide warmer temperatures. Highs will be returning to the upper 80's by Sunday. The winds will remain light during each morning and increase to 10-15 mph for the afternoon.
