7AM Weather Update Saturday April 25, 2009

Synopsis: Partly cloudy, warm, and humid today with an afternoon high in the lower 80s. Southeast winds are forecast to increase to 15-25mph and will remain gusty through the afternoon. Southerly winds will continue to load the atmosphere with moisture and it appears that enough moisture will return to the state by Sunday to warrant a slight threat for scattered afternoon showers. Breezy conditions are forecast again on Sunday with southeast winds at 15-25mph.
