7:30AM Weather Update: Thurs, Jan. 17, 2013

Synopsis:

A ridge of high pressure will provide sunny skies and warm afternoons as we go through the rest of the week. Highs each day should warm into the low 70's with lows starting each morning in the low to mid 40's. The winds will remain light each day out of the SE 4-8mph. The ridge of high pressure looks to hang on through much of next week as well.
