Notes – Friday, January 4, 2013

Mostly cloudy and windy with frequent rain squalls. High of 72. Winds E/NE 25-35 mph with gusts over 40 mph.

Play was suspended for seven minutes beginning at 12:27 p.m. due to high wind. Another delay due to wind came at 12:46 p.m., with a subsequent announcement that Friday's play was cancelled, with the first round beginning anew on Saturday morning. The first round will begin at 7:30 a.m. off of split tees, with plans to complete rounds one and two on Saturday.

The wind gusts that caused the initial suspension were at 41 mph. The maximum wind gust on Friday was 45 mph. Total rainfall at The Plantation Course up to 3:00 p.m. on Friday was .25".

From the USGA: Rules and Decisions of Golf – Rule 33-2 (d) – Course Unplayable – If the Committee or its authorized representative considers that for any reason the course is not in a playable condition or that there are circumstances that render the proper playing of the game impossible, it may, in match play or stroke play, order a temporary suspension of play or, in stroke play, declare play null and void and cancel all scores for the round in question. When a round is canceled, all penalties incurred in that round are canceled.

Prior to Friday, the last time the TOUR declared "play null and void" and restarted a round came at THE PLAYERS Championship in 2005 (second round).

The last time a round was suspended on the PGA TOUR due to wind came at the 2012 AT&T National (start of round delayed due to overnight wind damage). The third round of the 2012 Humana Challenge was also delayed due to wind.

Twenty-four of the 30-player field had teed off on Friday before play was cancelled and rescheduled for Saturday.

When the decision was made by TOUR officials to cancel play that had taken place on Friday, 2012 U.S. Open champion Webb Simpson held the lead at 3-under through seven holes. On the opposite end of the spectrum, Scott Stallings stood at 7-over through four holes. Defending champion Steve Stricker had yet to tee off.

When the first round was cancelled, here's how the leaderboard stood:

Rank	Player	Score	Thru
1.	Webb Simpson	-3	7
2.	Jonas Blixt	-1	5
3.	Kyle Stanley	E	4
