7 AM Update

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 27, 2013

Weather Synopsis

At 7 AM, high clouds continue to drift across the area from the east due to thunderstorms occurring off the east coast of Malaysia. Partly sunny, hot and humid conditions along with light winds are expected this morning. However, this will lead to a good chance for scattered thunderstorms late this afternoon. Surface winds will remain light from the NNW today and any storms that develop later today will virtually develop over top of us and move very, very slowly to the NNE.
