On Sunday, the third round resumed at 7 a.m. and concluded at 9:53 a.m. Players were not repaired between round three and round four. Final round tee times ran from 8:45 a.m. to 10:45 a.m.

Third-Round Leaderboard

Robert Karlsson	63-67-67—197 (-16)
Rory Sabbatini	68-65-65—198 (-15)
Kevin Stadler	67-63-68—198 (-15)
Harris English	68-62-68—198 (-15)

In addition to 500 FedExCup points and a two-year PGA TOUR exemption, the winner of the OHL Classic at Mayakoba (if not previously eligible) receives invitations to the Hyundai Tournament of Champions, a winners-only event in January, along with two major championships (Masters Tournament and PGA Championship) and THE PLAYERS. The player will also earn exemptions into six additional invitational events.

Robert Karlsson

Karlsson, who finished No. 156 in the FedExCup standings last year, does not have status on the PGA TOUR for the 2013-14 TOUR season. The last non-member to win on TOUR was Jordan Spieth at the 2013 John Deere Classic.

As a non-member, Karlsson needs a win to become a regular member in order to qualify for the FedExCup Playoffs. With a win, his non-member FedExCup points become retroactive and are added to the official FedExCup standings for the 2013-14 season.

Karlsson is making his 123rd start on the PGA TOUR.

Karlsson received a sponsor exemption into the McGladrey Classic last week where he finished T10 to earn a spot into the field this week at the OHL Classic at Mayakoba. Last week, Karlsson shot a final round 65 with a birdie-3 on No. 18 at the McGladrey Classic to earn the top-10.

Karlsson's only other third-round lead/co-lead came at the 2011 FedEx St. Jude Classic where he lost in a playoff to Harrison Frazar.

Karlsson's first round 63 was his career-best on TOUR. His 36-hole total of 130 tops his previous best of 131 from the 2011 FedEx St. Jude Classic. His 54-hole total of 197 tops his previous best of 199 from the 2011 FedEx St. Jude Classic.

Karlsson did not tee off on Thursday, he played all 36 holes of round one and round two on Friday.

Karlsson made only nine of 18 cuts on TOUR during the 2013 season. His only top 10 was a T4 at the Wells Fargo Championship in Charlotte.

Kevin Stadler

Stadler is searching for his first TOUR win in his 237th career start this week. He has two runner-up finishes, the last coming in 2009 when he lost a playoff at the Wyndham Championship to Ryan Moore.

Stadler is currently No. 29 in the FedExCup standings. He finished No. 34 in the FedExCup standings in 2012 and No. 33 in 2013.

Stadler is coming off a T10 finish last week at the McGladrey Classic. Last week, he made a bogey on No. 18 to drop to T10. The bogeyed allowed Robert Karlsson to finish T10, which got him into the field this week in Mexico.

On Thursday, Stadler played No. 10, No. 11 (eagle-2) and teed off No. 12 in round one before play was called. He played the remaining 34 holes on Friday.

Stadler has played in the OHL Classic at Mayakoba each of the seven years it has been played. He has made the cut each time with his only top 10 coming in 2010 (T9). His previous best round in Mexico was a 66.

Rory Sabbatini

In his previous two starts at the OHL Classic at Mayakoba, Sabbatini missed the cut in 2012 and finished T5 in 2011.

Sabbatini entered this week with only two of 12 rounds at par-or-better in his first four events to start this season. He missed the cut at the Frys.com Open and Shriners Hospitals for Children Open followed by a T53 at the CIMB Classic and a T70 at the McGladrey Classic.

Harris English

English has recorded 13 of 14 rounds at par-or-better to start this season. His best finish in three previous starts this season is T7 at the CIMB Classic.

English is making his first start in the OHL Classic at Mayakoba.

Miscellaneous Notes

All six past champions of the OHL Classic at Mayakoba are in the field this week:
