

OHL Classic at Mayakoba

5:30AM Weather Update: Sat, Nov. 16, 2013

Synopsis: High pressure will continue to build west over the region as we go through the day. A few showers and isolated t-storms are possible this morning, then partly cloudy skies can be expected for the afternoon. Temperatures will be hot with highs in the mid 80's. Partly cloudy skies will continue on Sunday with highs in the mid to upper 80's. Can't rule out an isolated shower or t-storm. But most areas will remain dry. The high will shift west away from the area on Monday. This will allow the chance for showers and t-storms to return.
