A Message from Century Club Charities, Inc. President

Dear Media Partner:

Century Club Charities welcomes you to the 2014 Sanderson Farms Championship at The Country Club of Jackson, November 3-9, 2014!

This year marks our forty-sixth consecutive year to host the PGA in Mississippi, but in many ways it feels like our first. After the success of last year's event Joe Sanderson and Sanderson Farms agreed to extend their title sponsorship through 2016. In the process we changed our date from the summer heat to the first of November, increased the purse from $3 million to $4 million, and changed venues. We owe great thanks to our partners at Annandale Golf Club for eighteen wonderful years as a first-class host and a fabulous course. In our desire to significantly increase our fundraising efforts we looked to the vast facilities of The Country Club of Jackson, and its proximity to more of our area's population. The Tour was equally impressed by their John Fought-redesigned golf course, and we are genuinely excited about the opportunities the Country Club provides.

The 2014 Sanderson Farms Championship will be one of the early 2014-2015 season PGA Tour events, and will be opposite the HSBC World Golf Championship in China. The HSBC event hosts only the top fifty players on World Golf Rankings plus a few qualifiers from the European and Asia tours. This will be the least intrusive opposite event in our history, and we expect our best field ever. The Sanderson Farms Championship is again part of the Fed Ex Cup points race, and will enjoy four days of live global coverage from The Golf Channel.

Since our inception in 1996 Century Club Charities has raised over $8 million for local charities. Several years ago we designated Friends of Children's Hospital as our primary benefactor. Our impact on Friends, and the Blair E. Batson Hospital for Children, is of utmost importance to Century Club, Sanderson Farms and all our sponsors. Last year we donated $400,000 to Friends and hope to far exceed that goal this year. In addition to the charitable aspect, our tournament is the largest professional event in the state, and brings a significant economic impact.

We are tremendously grateful to our sponsors and the thousand volunteers that give of their time, energy and resources to make this tournament so special. We thank you, our media partners, for your support in highlighting all the wonderful things that the Sanderson Farms Championship does for Mississippi.

We can't wait until November! I look forward to seeing you there.

Johnny Lang,
Century Club Charities, Inc. President

Century Club Charities

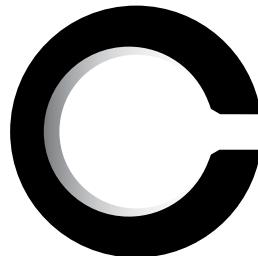

Century Club Charities, Inc. (CCC) is a not-for-profit, tax-exempt 501(c)3 organization whose mission is promoting the game of golf for the benefit of local charities. Since 1986, Century Club Charities has generated more than $8 million for local charities through the Birdies For Charity program, grants and drawings. Last year alone, over $420,000 was donated to local charities. In 2013, over 64 charities benefited from the Birdies For Charity program.

While continuing with the Birdies For Charity program, Century Club Charities has adopted the Friends of Children's Hospital as their primary charity. Friends is a non-profit organization created to benefit the Batson Children's Hospital. Batson is Mississippi's only hospital built specifically for the care and emergency treatment of children. Friends of Children's Hospital ensures their patients have everything from stuffed animals to state-of-the-art medical equipment. All tournament proceeds from this year's event will go to benefit this organization.

Century Club Charities, Inc. currently consists of more than 200 businessmen and women in Mississippi and surrounding areas.

CENTURY CLUB CHARITIES

Friends of Children's Hospital

Friends of Children's Hospital was created in 1989 to raise funds and awareness for Mississippi's only hospital built exclusively for the care of children, Batson Children's Hospital at the University of Mississippi Medical Center in Jackson. From the beginning, Friends has focused on the unique needs of sick children and their families. Unlike government or grant funding, every dollar Friends raises does not have a specific purpose; so, Friends has the flexibility to meet special needs of the children and their families as those needs arise. Children are not miniature adults so their needs include books, toys, movies, games, and age appropriate activities, as well as teachers to help them with schoolwork they are missing. On top of this, their families may also need emotional support to help them deal with their child's illness or injury.

Friends is a dedicated network of volunteers from around the state who are committed to the needs of Mississippi's children. Members of the Board of Directors are actively engaged in planning, organizing and working countless hours on fundraising events such as the BankPlus Enchanted Evening gala, the Miracle Home giveaway presented by Trustmark Bank, and the SouthGroup 5K run as well as providing volunteer manpower to support the Sanderson Farm's Championship. Combined, these events have raised millions of dollars through the years. This money has been used to provide more than books, toys, music and games. It has provided a certified child life specialist to play with the children in a special play area, as well as an entire in-hospital school program. Friends also funded a state of the art digital entertainment and education system enabling children and their families to enjoy watching a movie or learning about an upcoming surgery. Friends is committed to creating a hospital environment for children that insurance plans or government programs would not be able to fund.

Friends of Children's Hospital is honored to partner with the Sanderson Farms Championship. The money raised from this year's tournament has been pledged to help create a new Children's Heart Center that is focused on the unique needs of children. The Pediatric Heart team at Batson Children's Hospital is world class and the money raised at this PGA event will ensure that our children's care and surroundings will be world class as well.

Welcome from Tournament Director Steve Jent

Dear Sanderson Farms Championship Media:

On behalf of Century Club Charities and the tournament staff, welcome to the 47th edition of the Sanderson Farms Championship, Mississippi's PGA TOUR event.

We are excited about what you will experience this week with the change in the tournament venue to the Country Club of Jackson. We believe everyone involved, from sponsors and spectators to volunteers and you, the media, alike will enjoy the views of the competition the golf course provides. I know General Manager Patrick Joyce and his staff at the Country Club have put in countless hours making sure the facility is ready to showcase our event to a global audience.

There are several new events and venues this year that we invite you to discover. We will be holding our inaugural Women's Day Brunch on Tuesday, Nov. 5 at 9:00 am in the CCJ clubhouse. Leigh Anne Tuohy of the Blind Side fame will be the featured speaker. The BankPlus Fan Pavilion on the 12th Green will be open to the Public with an upgraded ticket Thursday – Sunday, and local chefs will be preparing signature dishes in the Pavilion. And our partners at Trustmark and Sanderson Farms are sponsoring our Military Outpost on the 10th Green. We will be hosting active, reserve, retired and veteran Mississippi servicemen and women each day - our way of saying "Thank You" to these brave individuals for their service.

The Sanderson Farms Championship is proud to support Blair E. Batson Children's Hospital through our donations to the Friends of Children's Hospital. Our children's hospital treats about 150,000 children each year. Patients come from all of Mississippi's 82 counties to receive comprehensive medical care for everything from common childhood illnesses to serious trauma and life-threatening or chronic illnesses. Batson houses the state's only pediatric intensive care unit and emergency department along with Mississippi's only pediatric treatment programs for cancer, cystic fibrosis, sickle cell anemia, congenital heart defects and more. We are proud that our state is blessed with such an amazing facility and medical staff.

We appreciate the partnership the tournament has had with the media throughout the years. We hope you enjoy the location of the media center within the clubhouse and the heart of the action. If there's anything that I or any member of my staff can do to make your experience better, please don't hesitate to ask.

Thanks for being here! Enjoy the week!

Sincerely,

FedExCup Points Structure

Basic Outline

The FedExCup is a season-long competition in which players accumulate points in each eligible FedExCup Points Event. At the end of the season, the winning player will be crowned the “PGA TOUR FedExCup Champion.”

Season

The PGA TOUR’s 2014-2015 FedExCup competition begins with Hyundai Tournament of Champions in Hawaii, through the Wyndham Championship in Greensboro and concludes with the 2014-2015 FedExCup Playoffs, which will consist of The Barclays, Deutsche Bank Championship, BMW Championship and TOUR Championship by Coca-Cola.

FedExCup Points Distribution

- Official PGA TOUR events each award 500 FedExCup points to first place.
- The Masters Tournament, THE PLAYERS Championship, US Open Championship, British Open and the PGA Championship will award 600 FedExCup points to first place.
- Each of the four World Golf Championships events will award 550 FedExCup points to first place.
- Additional events played during the FedExCup competition (those played the same week as a Major or World Golf Championships) will award 300 FedExCup points to first place.

Limited field events during the FedExCup competition will not redistribute the points for places that do not play. Those points are not awarded to the field and the total points distributed will be slightly less than the total points as defined above. For example, if the 2015 Hyundai Tournament of Champions has a field of 30 players, the points awarded will be based on the points that would be awarded to each individual position in a full-field event from positions I to 30. This will result in the points that would have otherwise been awarded from positions 31-70 in a regular event not being awarded in the tournament.

Another example is the World Golf Championships-Match Play Championship, a 64-player field. In this limited-field event, points for positions 65 and beyond would not be awarded.

Point Distribution by Finish Position

FedEx Cup

The top 125 players from the FedExCup competition, after the Wyndham Championship, will be eligible to play in the first playoff event. In the event that one of those players is unable or chooses not to play, the field will be shortened and no alternates will be added.

The FedExCup Playoffs will feature a progressive cut through the first three events to determine the final 30 players who qualify for TOUR Championship by Coca-Cola. The Barclays opens the FedExCup Playoffs with 125 players and ties, followed by the Deutsche Bank Championship with 100 players and ties and the BMW Championship with 70 players and ties.

The top 30 players earning points through the BMW Championship will be eligible to play in TOUR Championship by Coca-Cola. In the event any of the 30 eligible players is unable or chooses not to play in TOUR Championship, alternates will not be added to fill the field. Points from the missing positions will not be awarded.

TOUR Championship Reseed

At the conclusion of the BMW Championship, the top 30 players in the FedExCup Points standings will be eligible for TOUR Championship and will be reseeded based on their position. The reseeded points and the points awarded at TOUR Championship by Coca-Cola are shown in the table below. Following TOUR Championship by Coca-Cola, the total points each player earns based on his finish at TOUR Championship will be added to his reseeded points, and the player with the highest point total will be named winner of the FedExCup.

In the event of a tie in FedExCup points following TOUR Championship by Coca-Cola, the winner will be decided in a sudden-death playoff immediately following completion of competition. The sudden-death playoff will follow the same format that would be used in the event of a tie for first place at TOUR Championship by Coca-Cola.

Other Notes

FedEx Cup

FedExCup points are distributed to players earning official money. Only players who are regular members of the PGA TOUR or become Regular Members during the season (as defined by PGA TOUR tournament regulations) will be listed on the “FedExCup Points List.” Special Temporary Members and non-members who earn FedExCup points will not appear on the “FedExCup Points List,” but will be tracked on a Non-Member FedExCup Points List. Amateurs will not be eligible to earn FedExCup points. For example, if an amateur finishes 3rd at an event and a regular PGA TOUR member finishes 4th, the PGA TOUR member will receive 4th place points – third place points will not be awarded at all.

Points will be awarded at official PGA TOUR FedExCup events where official money is earned. For example, the 2005 Northern Trust Open, which was shortened to 36 holes, is listed as an unofficial victory but awarded official money. This event would award FedExCup points.

Points won by Non-members and Special Temporary Members who subsequently become regular PGA TOUR Members during the season will be counted on the FedExCup Points List, along with any FedExCup Points earned as a non-member (excluding those won at World Golf Championship events as a non-member).

All FedExCup point totals will be calculated to three decimals. As noted earlier, in the event that there is a tie to three decimal places, at one of the progressive cut levels during the FedExCup Playoffs, the tied players will be added to the field. In the event there is a tie for 30th position going into TOUR Championship, reseed points will continue to decrease in ten point intervals for each player that is tied and those points would be divided equally between the tied players. For example, two players tied for 30th position in the points standings going into TOUR Championship would take 30th place points (210), and theoretical 31st place points (200 points), add them and divide by two. This would yield 205 reseed points for each player.

At TOUR Championship, tied players for every position will have their reseed points split in the same way. For example, if two players tie for 2nd place in the standings going into TOUR Championship, 2nd place (2,250) and 3rd place (2,000) will be added and divided by two, yielding 2,125 reseed points for each player.

Hole By Hole Description of Country Club of Jackson

#1 (411 yds. / 352 yds.)

The opening hole plays 411 yards from the back tee and 352 yards from the member's tee into a generous fairway. Most errant tee shots find the pine trees in the right rough due to a fairway that forms a slight dogleg from right to left. The right greenside bunker is a good aiming point for this opening tee shot. A mid/short iron is typically played into a green that slopes from back to front with two bunkers guarding the front of the green and a collection area off the right side.

The second hole is one of the strongest holes on the front nine. The hole is shaped to play a slight left to right shot off the tee with the left fairway bunker as your target from the back tees. From the member's tee, a left to right or straight tee shot is preferred. A greenside pond guards the front/left side of the green and angles away from the fairway. Play your mid-iron into the middle of the green. This is one hole that long is better than short with your approach shot. Local knowledge tells you that the front left side of this green breaks into the middle of the green AWAY from the water.

#3 (551 yds. / 471 yds.)

The opening par five is your first real chance to make a birdie. Your target is off the right side of the fairway bunker. This green is reachable for the long hitter, but over the green produces a very challenging up-and-down. The layup shot should be played to your favorite yardage leaving a comfortable shot into this green.

#4 (181 yds. / 155 yds.)

Quite possibly the hardest par on the course; this par three requires a precise tee shot to a green which angles away from you. The left side is protected by two bunkers; there is a predominant false front with the left and back of the green sloping drastically away. Regardless of the hole location, take aim at the left center of the green. A par is a great score at this hole. The slowest putt on the course is from the front of the middle of this green.

#5 (612 yds. / 526 yds.)

As the longest hole on the course, this par five plays as a true three shot hole. This tee shot should be aimed left of the fairway bunker regardless of the tee you play from. The second shot requires good distance control to avoid the right side fairway bunker and the pond that protects the left side of the fairway 125 yards from the green. Play to the heart of this shallow, slightly uphill green avoiding the "sucker pins" which are located on the edges. As a general rule this green slopes back to the fairway.

#6 (482 yds. / 421 yds.)

As the number one handicap hole on the front nine, this dogleg left par four demands a solid tee shot to the right of the oak trees guarding the left side of the fairway. From the back tee, a drive of 280 yards into the corner of the dogleg produces the clear view of the green. The long second shot plays into a generous green which is guarded by left and right greenside bunkers. Par is a great score at this hole.

#7 (214 yds. / 178 yds.)

The front bunker of this par three offers an optical illusion as it sits approximately thirty yards from the front edge of the green. A tee shot short is always better on this hole than one that is long or misses the green off the right side as both of those up and downs are very challenging. This hole will challenge your short game skills and typically produces long birdie putts. Focus on speed control more so than line on your first putt to avoid the dreaded three-putt.

#8 (403 yds. / 343 yds.)

Depending on your length off the tee, this par four may require a tee shot with something other than your driver. The creek runs down the entire left side of the hole and cuts across the middle of the fairway twenty yards past the left fairway bunker which sets approximately 135 yards from the middle of the green. Aim at the left side of the bunker to find the middle of the fairway. The uphill, second shot plays a half a club long and is protected by deep bunkers. Unless you have a "green light" yardage, play into the left side of the green.

#9 (421 yds. / 368 yds.)

The closing hole on the front nine appears to be straight, yet your target is just right of the left fairway bunker. A tee shot that hits one of the overhead power lines is required to be replayed without penalty. Your second shot into the green plays a half a club uphill. More times than not, an approach shot falls short on this hole into the front greenside bunker. The hardest hole location on the green is front left as this hole location produces one of the fastest putts on the course.

#10 (223 yds. / 192 yds.)

This par three is more challenging than it appears. The hole plays slightly downhill, but most misses are short not long. Play to the left-middle of the green even if the hole is in the back right portion as the ball tends to naturally feed that direction. One of the hardest hole locations is front or front-left as the ball generally will not bounce up onto this green when landed short. A shot that runs through the green is apt to find the back bunker which is hidden to your eye. A precise tee shot is required to play this hole well.

#11 (554 yds. / 490 yds.)

This straight away par five requires some thought to play well and is typically a three shot hole. A tee shot to the right side of the fairway opens up your second shot if you are trying to reach this green in two shots. The layup shot is typically a mid-iron to the left side in an effort to avoid the pond protecting the green on the right side of the fairway approximately 120 yards out. The front third of this green produces the most challenging hole location. If strategically played, this hole provides a good birdie opportunity.

#12 (409 yds. / 354 yds.)

The water tower in the background is a great aiming point for your tee shot. There is a pond short left of the green which doesn't typically come into play from the tee. The approach shot into this green is one of the most demanding on the course as the front of the green is protected by two bunkers, a pond and the back of the green falls away from you. Taking dead aim at the flag isn't always the best choice on this hole. Play your shot to the middle-right side of the green and avoid the long and/or short miss as bogey is a good score if you don't have a birdie putt.

#13 (151 yds. / 131 yds.)

Don't let the shortest hole on the course fool you. The wind tends to swirl and knock a high short iron shot down into the front bunker. Pay attention to the wind direction by the flag on the previous green to assist you with your club/shot choice. The green is protected by two front bunkers and one hidden over the back left side of this green. Most misses come up short; if possible play a low trajectory shot to avoid the swirling winds.

Hole By Hole Description of Country Club of Jackson

#14 (584 yds. / 508 yds.)

This par five is typically a three shot hole for most players. Take aim at the distant right fairway bunker off the tee. Play your second shot to a comfortable yardage from which you can attack this green. The sucker hole location on this green is a middle flag positioned tucked over the right greenside bunker. Your safest play it into the center line of the green to give you the best chance for a birdie.

#15 (330 yds. / 280 yds.)

You have to be careful of this short hole. It appears that the play off the tee is hit a driver as far as you can down the right side missing the left fairway bunker. Like most short holes, the second shot is very challenging. Unless you have a great wedge game, layup short of the fairway bunker located approximately 90 yards from the middle of the green. The green slopes severely away from you and a full shot into this green has the best chance to offer a birdie putt. If you choose to attack this hole, take your tee shot over the bunker and challenge the left side of the fairway producing an easier pitch into the green. If your drive lands right of the fairway bunker, par is a GREAT score regardless of how close you are to the green. Good Luck

#16 (469 yds. / 407 yds.)

Our signature hole, this par four requires two of the most demanding shots you will be faced with on the course. The swamp protects the entire left side of the hole and crosses the fairway approximately 80 yards from the middle of the green. The bailout tee shot finds the right side of the fairway or rough forcing you to hit back towards the water on your approach. The aggressive line off the tee is to challenge the left side of the fairway where the ball will run out. The long iron/hybrid approach shot is into the largest green on the course at approximately 40 yards deep. This shot is very demanding with the swamp left and a large bunker protecting the front right side of the green. When playing from the fairway, determine the distance to the middle of the green and subtract twenty yards. This will give you a minimum distance to carry the shot allowing for the ball to roll/release into the middle.

#17 (416 yds. / 359 yds.)

The right side of this fairway is the "hot" side provided you are long enough to carry the hill in the fairway. The right hand side of the bunker located in the left center of the fairway is a good target from the tee; don't worry, this bunker is out of reach. Pay particular attention to your lie on the approach shot into this narrow green as the fairway slopes from right to left and promoting a draw/hook on your short/mid-iron approach. A back left hole location shouldn't be challenged as the green falls away from you in that corner.

#18 (505 yds. / 404 yds.)

The closing tee shot appears to be very straight forward. However, the rolling fairway produces a tee shot that runs out or sits down quickly. A tee shot placed right-center has the best chance to run out and the fairway bunker is not reachable for most players from the member tee. From the back tee, at 505 yards, a big tee shot is required and should be positioned down the left side of the fairway. Regardless of the tee you play, the second shot plays almost a full club uphill to a green protected by bunkers short right and left. Be aggressive with a back-right hole location as very few shots travel over this green. The miss tends to be in the front right bunker so take one more club than the yardage and hit it solid.
