James Hahn

South Korea native James Hahn posted a bogey-free, 6-under 65 to head into the weekend with the 36-hole lead, just two weeks before he returns to Riviera Country Club to defend his Northern Trust Open title.

Hahn has previously held a 36-hole lead/co-lead just once. At the 2013 CareerBuilder Challenge, he was tied at the top after the first two rounds, before finishing T4.

Hahn is making his fourth-consecutive start in the Waste Management Phoenix Open this week; 2015/T59, 2014/MC and 2013/T16.

Hahn achieved worldwide notoriety at the 2013 Waste Management Phoenix Open, when his Gangnam Style dance on the par-3 16th hole during competition went viral.

In addition to his PGA TOUR victory, Hahn owns one win on the Web.com Tour and two victories on the Mackenzie Tour – PGA TOUR Canada.

Second-Round Lead Notes

Since moving to TPC Scottsdale in 1987, the record for largest 36-hole lead is five strokes, held by Mark Calcavecchia in 2001 and Spencer Levin in 2012.

Since 2000, second-round leaders/co-leaders of the event have held on for the win five times: Tom Lehman (2000), Mark Calcavecchia (2001), Phil Mickelson (2005, 2013) and J.B. Holmes (2008).

Last year, Martin Laird held a two-stroke lead after 36 holes at 10-under-par. Eventual champion Brooks Koepka was seven strokes back.

Through 11 events in the 2015-16 PGA TOUR Season, four players have managed to convert a 36-hole lead/co-lead into victory, most recently being Jason Dufner two weeks ago at the CareerBuilder Challenge.

Danny Lee

Fellow South Korean native to James Hahn, Danny Lee is making his fourth start in the Waste Management Phoenix Open, where he has broken a streak of three missed cuts. Lee's 67-66 start this week marks just his second and third sub-par scores in eight rounds at TPC Scottsdale.

Lee, who broke into the winner's circle for the first time at last year at The Greenbrier Classic, is making his sixth start of the 2015-16 Season, where he remains in search of his first top-10 finish.

In addition to the win in West Virginia last season, he collected an additional seven top-10 finishes and ended the season ranked ninth in the FedExCup standings.

In September of last year, earned a spot on the Presidents Cup International squad, where he went 1-2-0 in his native South Korea.

Rickie Fowler

Two weeks after his win at the Abu Dhabi Championship, Rickie Fowler rallied from last week's missed cut at the Farmers Insurance Open and finds himself in solid position headed into the weekend in Scottsdale.

In round one, Fowler needed just 24 putts to complete his round, as opposed to 31 in round two. For the second straight day, he hit nine of 14 fairways in regulation.

Fowler is making his eighth start in this week's Waste Management Phoenix Open, with a solo-second in 2010 his lone top-10 finish. Fowler finished T43 at TPC Scottsdale last year, following missed cuts in 2013 and 2014.

Fowler remains in search of his fourth career PGA TOUR title this week to go along with his 2012 Wells Fargo Championship, 2015 PLAYERS Championship and 2015 Deutsche Bank Championship crowns.

Fowler is making his fifth start of the 2015-16 PGA TOUR Season, with a fifth-place showing at the Hyundai Tournament of Champions his one top-10 finish.

Phil Mickelson

In his 27th start in the Waste Management Phoenix Open, 1996, 2005 and 2013 winner Phil Mickelson will head into the weekend eight strokes back at 2-under 140. This marks his 21st made cut in the event. Mickelson's most recent of six missed cuts at TPC Scottsdale came last year.

En route to his first win in the event in 1996, Mickelson was four strokes off the lead at 6-under 136 after 36 holes. He led outright after the second round in 2005 and 2013.

Mickelson is hoping to become the first four-time winner of this event. Mark Calcavecchia, Gene Littler and Arnold Palmer also captured three tournament titles.

Mickelson's 10 top-10 finishes in the event is the tournament record by one over Mark Calcavecchia.

In his first start of the 2015-16 PGA TOUR Season two weeks ago, Mickelson finished T3 at the CareerBuilder Challenge in Palm Springs.
