MODERATOR: We would like to thank you all for hanging out here. We've got to be a little bit low, but we're going to be live on the Golf Channel so we've got to watch our language.

We're grateful to have you all here for our first annual Bass Pro Shops Legends of Golf Skins Shootout with Lee Trevino, Gary Player, Kid Rock and Jack Nicklaus. Ladies and gentlemen, Johnny Morris.

JOHNNY MORRIS: Hey there, buddy. It's happy day in the Ozarks, isn't it? I mean, a happy beautiful day. We call this tournament the Legends and we've got four great ones here, not only in golf, in rock and roll, but just in life.

And guys, it's an honor to have you here. From all of us here in the Ozarks, what you mean to us and putting the spotlight, the whole world right here where we're proud to live and call it home. I guess we've got champs and four champs, but the two getting the trophy -- we had four, but Kid Rock said no, there's just going to be one trophy and it goes to Kid Rock and Jack Nicklaus. So congratulations, guys.

JACK NICKLAUS: Okay, we've got to thank the sponsors, the people, the things. Ask him what the prize check is for this, too.

KID ROCK: How much?

JACK NICKLAUS: Wait a minute, it's not anything. He doesn't want to lose his amateur status.

LEE TREVINO: We actually won by one shot and I wanted to know if there was a cash prize and they said no, so we said y'all could have the trophy, don't worry about it.

JACK NICKLAUS: I tell you, we had such a great time this week. I mean, the weather did not cooperate, but heck with it, that's okay. We had a good time, we had fun.

KID ROCK: Lee Trevino called me Chris Rock for like the first eight hours.

LEE TREVINO: Well, you have to understand I'm colorblind.

JACK NICKLAUS: Well --

LEE TREVINO: I did, he's telling you the truth. I felt so bad.

JACK NICKLAUS: But I thought Steve Trevino played really well.

LEE TREVINO: He called me "Steve."

GARY PLAYER: Did you hear what you called him after eight holes? "Sir."

LEE TREVINO: I'm telling you, I'm going to tell you something, Kid played unbelievably. Now, he's played three years and he's really into this game. He just joined The Bear's Club down in Florida, lives in Nashville.

KID ROCK: Membership's under review.

LEE TREVINO: No. Spends quite a bit of time at it. We're so proud that he's playing this game. But I'm going to tell you something, from tee to green today he beat all three of us. He hit eight greens in regulation. He hit eight greens in regulation today. I didn't do that, Jack didn't do that, Gary didn't do that.

GARY PLAYER: Yeah, but we've got to give him a blood test and a urine test.

LEE TREVINO: I have never seen anyone drink 12 cups of coffee in nine holes.

KID ROCK: Hey, thank you, Johnny, John Paul, what a wonderful event to be here in the Ozarks. This place is heaven on earth, really it is. I think everyone's families have shared that and said that this is just unbelievable. If you haven't been here, this isn't an advertisement, it's sincere. It's just absolutely breathtaking. Thank you for having.

GARY PLAYER: And also the charity this week is something Jack and Tom Watson and Andy North with our wives went to the University of the Ozarks here, probably one of the greatest universities in the world who really appreciate the American flag and what it stands for, all doing the work themselves, and this is something that was really encouraging to see. So it's a great charity. And Johnny and his son and family, I don't know, they're absolutely marvelous. They should be given some kind of a medal or award for what they've contributed here and for the tourism for the state.

KID ROCK: Are you trying to one-up me, because I think Johnny and JP are the greatest human beings alive.

JOHNNY MORRIS: He just wants to go get one of our turkeys tomorrow.

KID ROCK: Amen, amen.

JACK NICKLAUS: You're going to get one, too, aren't you?

KID ROCK: I actually want to bass fish a little bit.

LEE TREVINO: You know, you can go to Safeway and get one a lot cheaper. Clean, too.

KID ROCK: Steve, I'm going to use a Larry the Cable Guy joke and say I thought I told you to stay in the truck?

GARY PLAYER: You know the good news? You get an invite back next year as defending champion.

LEE TREVINO: Defending champion!

KID ROCK: Is this live on television?

LEE TREVINO: Yes. Don't say it.

KID ROCK: Mom, look, I'm -- see? They were worried about me. Just golfing with Jack Nicklaus, no big deal.

LEE TREVINO: I want to say one thing for the fans you have here. It's just unbelievable. I drove up to the concert, as you well know, up at the academy at the clubhouse and had dinner with everyone and everything. I thought I was in Los Angeles, to tell you the truth, because I've never seen so much traffic lined up in my life and it was all the way to Omaha, I think. And when I left there at 8:30 it was still all the way to Omaha, and it was down-pouring.

I want to say one thing. These are fans that you have here, they're really fans. They're really fans that you have here. And like Jack said, the weather didn't cooperate with us, but I'll tell you something, these people here did not stay home. I did, but they didn't.

KID ROCK: Hard-working rednecks.

LEE TREVINO: I don't know about that. I can't do that because Trump's trying to get me across that water, so I'm not saying nothing.

KID ROCK: He went there, he went there. I'll get you across.

LEE TREVINO: Okay, baby.

JOHNNY MORRIS: Thank you, fellas.

LEE TREVINO: Thank you, thank you. God bless you.
