

ROUND 3 INTERVIEW
November 10, 2018

PAUL GOYDOS (-16)

Q. Tell me about your round today.

PAUL GOYDOS: I didn't -- today was kind of that round as to why -- why I'm, you know, not in the running to win the Schwab Cup, and I just didn't really get a lot done today. I actually hung in there pretty good. I got off to a shaky start, an early bogey, and I just didn't do anything particularly well. I just didn't do anything particularly bad, either. Stephen Ames shot 10 under. Scott didn't do anything. I don't think Scott's walking away excited, he shot 5 under. But, you know, still in good shape. I think we're only one or two back, whatever it is.

Q. Last round of the year, what are your emotions going into that?

PAUL GOYDOS: Well, I mean, that's an interesting question. I'm obviously happy that it's got the potential of being an exciting day, but I'm also looking forward to a couple months off, too, quite frankly. At our age, you get a little beat up and a couple months off sounds good. But I'm looking forward to trying to play as well I can. I've won this tournament before and hopefully I can have a good Sunday.

Q. And has this weekend been about what you expected or have you been disappointed, or what are your thoughts?

PAUL GOYDOS: If you would have told me -- if you would have told me I'd be two back playing on Sunday, I probably would be pretty happy with that. Obviously not the way it played out, but today was just one of those days where nothing felt right. So to survive that and have a chance to win is a good thing.
