Charles Schwab Cup Championship

Phoenix Country Club | Phoenix, Arizona | November 7-10, 2019

Charles Schwab Cup – Scenarios to Win

Five players are mathematically capable of winning the Charles Schwab Cup. Scott McCarron and Jerry Kelly are the only players that can win the Charles Schwab Cup without winning the tournament.

1. Scott McCarron (2,553,515 points)
- Win
- 4th (solo) or better AND Kelly does not win
- 5th (solo) or better AND Kelly does not finish 2nd (solo)
- T8 (three-way) or better AND
  - Kelly finishes 4th (three-way) or worse
  - Langer does not win
- 12th (two-way) or better AND
  - Kelly finishes 5th (two-way) or worse
  - Langer or Montgomerie do not win
- Regardless of McCarron's finish, he would win if
  - Kelly finishes T8 (two-way) or worse
  - Langer, Montgomerie or Goosen do not win

2. Jerry Kelly (2,383,365 points / trails by 170,150)
- Win
- 2nd (solo) AND McCarron finishes T4 (two-way) or worse
- 3rd (solo) AND
  - McCarron finishes T6 (two-way) or worse
  - Langer does not win
- 4th (solo) AND
  - McCarron finishes T7 (three-way) or worse
  - Langer does not win
- 5th (solo) AND
  - McCarron finishes T10 (two-way) or worse
  - Langer or Montgomerie do not win
- 6th (solo) AND
  - McCarron finishes T18 (three-way) or worse
  - Langer, Montgomerie or Goosen do not win

3. Bernhard Langer (1,971,809 points / trails by 581,706)
- Langer must win AND
    - McCarron finishes T5 (two-way) or worse
    - Kelly finishes T2 (two-way) or worse

4. Colin Montgomerie (1,824,552 points / trails by 728,963)
- Montgomerie must win AND
    - McCarron finishes 9th (solo) or worse
    - Kelly finishes 4th (three-way) or worse

5. Retief Goosen (1,790,985 points / trails by 762,530)
- Goosen must win AND
    - McCarron finishes T12 (three-way) or worse
    - Kelly finishes T5 (two-way) or worse