

Senior Open Championship Forecast

7 AM Update

Sunday, 28 July 2019

Synopsis -

At 7 AM, the heavy rain is currently moving through the area and is expected to last for the next hour. We will see breaks at times throughout the day in the rain but more light to moderate rains are likely and even a few embedded heavier spots. An additional 10-20 mm or .50 to 1 inch of rain is likely today. The strong NW wind sticks around until early afternoon then a slight drop down to 10-20 MPH is expect through sunset. The rain will taper off overnight and into tomorrow morning with mostly cloudy skies expected on Monday and a breezy NW wind at 10-15 MPH.
