TOURNAMENT STORYLINES

The Open returns: The Open Championship was canceled in 2020 due to the COVID-19 pandemic and was the only one of the four men's major championships not played during the 2020 calendar year (other three were rescheduled). Prior to 2020, the last time The Open was not played was from 1940-1945 due to World War II.

Royal St. George's plays host: Royal St. George's Golf Club in Sandwich, Kent, England, will host The Open for the 15th time and first since 2011 (won by Darren Clarke). The course first hosted the event in 1894 and other past champions include Harry Vardon and Walter Hagen (twice each).

Rahm looks for second consecutive major: 2021 U.S. Open champion Jon Rahm is attempting to become the first player since Jordan Spieth (2015 Masters Tournament, 2015 U.S. Open) to win back-to-back majors. Rahm finished T11 in 2019, his best result in four starts at the event.

Young stars making tournament debuts: Due in part to the tournament being canceled in 2020, several of the top players on the PGA TOUR have not previously competed in The Open, including three of the top 20 in the Official World Golf Ranking: Collin Morikawa (No. 4), Viktor Hovland (No. 14) and Scottie Scheffler (No. 19).

0/10: None of the top 10 players in the Official World Golf Ranking have won The Open (highest: No. 11 Rory McIlroy).

TOURNAMENT STORYLINES

Top Korn Ferry Tour players in the field: The Barbasol Championship is among the additional events in the 2020-21 PGA TOUR Season that expanded its field to 132 with additional spots available for the top 10 from the Korn Ferry Tour points list from September 2020. There are six players in the field via this category, and each currently ranks inside the top 15 on the Korn Ferry Tour Regular Season Points List as they seek PGA TOUR cards for the 2021-22 season: Stephan Jaeger (1), Greyson Sigg (4), Taylor Pendrith (5), Davis Riley (6), Lee Hodges (8) and Paul Barjon (11).

Bluegrass Golf: After a one-year hiatus due to COVID-19, the Barbasol Championship returns to the PGA TOUR schedule for the sixth playing and third at Keene Trace Golf Club. When the tournament moved to Kentucky in 2018, it became the first non-major in the state since the Kentucky Derby Open in 1959. Past champions Aaron Baddeley (2016), Grayson Murray (2017) and Jim Herman (2019) return to Keene Trace Golf Club in search of a second victory.

What's on the line: With only six events (four weeks) remaining in the regular season, the Barbasol Championship is crucial for players trying to secure a spot in the FedExCup Playoffs. The winner will earn 300 FedExCup points and a two-year PGA TOUR exemption. Only the top 125 in the FedExCup standings after the Wyndham Championship advance to THE NORTHERN TRUST, the first of three Playoffs events. Since the points structure changed in 2009, 69 players have been outside the top 125 with four weeks remaining and gone on to qualify for the Playoffs (average of 5.75 players per season).

SPONSOR EXEMPTION SPOTLIGHT

Sponsor exemptions were granted to the top two players in the inaugural PGA TOUR University ranking, John Pak and Davis Thompson. Pak, who finished No. 1 in the ranking, looks for his first made cut on the PGA TOUR as a professional, while Thompson recently held the first-round lead at the Rocket Mortgage Classic before finishing T58.

Earlier this month, Preston Summerhays won the inaugural Barbasol Junior Championship to earn a sponsor exemption. Summerhays, the son of Boyd Summerhays, former PGA TOUR player and current swing coach to TOUR players, will be making his second start on TOUR (2020 U.S. Open/MC) and previously won the 2019 U.S. Junior Amateur.
