

This week at The Corales Puntacana Resort & Club Championship at Corales Golf Course

Aon Insight

In 2019, the 12th hole at Corales Golf Course was the 11th-longest all season long on the PGA TOUR. While the wide fairway permits players to go for broke on the tee shot, the decision comes on the approach, where a tiered green presents a three-club difference from back to front. In the brief, three-year history of this event, tournament winners have played this hole in 4-under-par, and have never made bogey or worse.

Players to Watch

Hudson Swafford

The champion of this event in the fall (being played twice during the 2021-22 PGA TOUR season) is back and ready to defend his title on a course he is very comfortable on. Swafford's game fits the tough tropic conditions well, and he should be able to work his way around the course to find himself in contention once again come Sunday.

Tyler McCumber

The 29-year old, who is very comfortable around water (McCumber loves to surf when he is not on the golf course), is coming off two solid performances in the PLAYERS Championship (T22) and Honda Classic (T33). After a runner-up performance at this event in the fall, this could be the week for the talented Florida native to breakthrough and capture his first PGA TOUR victory.

Charley Hoffman

Hoffman, one of the longest tenured players on the PGA TOUR (card member since 2006), has completely transformed his body and has seen it pay off as of late. Hoffman is coming off three top-20 finishes in his last four starts, and as long as he can put 4 rounds together, he should see his name near the top of the leaderboard come Sunday.

What is the Aon Risk Reward Challenge?

The Aon Risk Reward Challenge is a season-long competition on the PGA TOUR and LPGA Tour testing the abilities of the world's best players to make thoughtful, strategic decisions on the most challenging holes ("Aon Risk Reward Challenge holes") throughout the year. At the end of the regular season, the most consistent player across each tour, with the lowest average score under par on the Aon Risk Reward Challenge holes, captures the $1 million prize.

Aon is committed to a diverse workforce and an inclusive culture where everyone can thrive, ensuring delivery of the best innovative solutions for clients. As such, providing equal prize money to both the PGA and LPGA Tours aligns with Aon's core values and brand.

Aon's Committed Support

In 2020, Aon paused the promotion of the Aon Risk Reward Challenge across both Tours in order to be sensitive to the state of the current environment. However, Aon was committed to the PGA TOUR and LPGA Tour players and partners and continued to support the Aon Risk Reward Challenge and the $1 million prize pay-out to Nick Taylor, the winner of the Challenge on the PGA TOUR. On the LPGA Tour, Aon supported the players' request to provide the $1 million prize purse at a new event (the Drive On Championship) that allowed many players with the opportunity to benefit from the earnings. Aon is excited to bring the full Aon Risk Reward Challenge back to the PGA TOUR and LPGA Tour for the 2020/2021 season.

Aon Risk Reward Challenge Scoring

- For every participating event, a player's best two scores on the designated hole counts towards the season-long leaderboard
- The player with lowest average score under par across the regular season wins the Aon Risk Reward Challenge
