Today – Sunny to mostly sunny this morning with light south-southwesterly winds. An isolated shower may move in from the southwest after 4pm. A brief heavy downpour cannot be ruled out should a stray shower occur, but total rainfall is likely to hold below 0.10". Lightning potential will remain low (15% probability) should one of these showers hold together and move across the course. Otherwise expect skies to become mostly cloudy to overcast, with temperatures in the upper 80s. South-southwesterly winds of 10-15 mph are forecast to occur from 2-5pm.
