Extended Forecast – A front will continue to linger across southeastern Texas tonight through Sunday which will aid in continued chances for thunderstorms and rain showers through Sunday morning. Low temperatures will be in the upper 60s to lower 70s. High temperatures will be in the mid-70s tomorrow trending into the upper 80s by Monday. Mostly sunny skies are expected by Monday as the front moves away from the region. The strongest winds are expected on Sunday and Monday when gusts around 20 mph will be possible.

Forecast prepared by meteorologist Marcus Hustedde.
