Harry Hall

Press Conference

Q. Going back to Wichita, do you think that's something you'll kind of look back to or draw from as far as mentality going into the final round?

HARRY HALL: Not too much the final round. Every round you're trying to shoot 6-under, you know. Game is different on every day, too.

I might not drive it well tomorrow, might not putt it well tomorrow, but my iron play might be great. Or nothing might be and I might have to grind it out.

I drew back on Wichita about two weeks ago as far as how I played the game. You're always looking to improve and hit it further and drive it straighter, putt it better.

But as far as what I've done well, I thought about Wichita a lot because I've been progressively playing solid this year, but not up to my standards or how I want to play. I kind of figured what did I do well in Wichita and I drew the ball off the tee.

I hit little cuts with my irons most of the time. I wasn't doing that for the whole year really. I've just gone back to hitting some draws and doing what I did well. All those little old feels in my journey that I'm trying to replicate and I know work.

Yeah, I've done that really well the last few days.
