

Scottish Open Forecast

7 AM Update

Saturday, 09 July 2022

Synopsis -

We will start with some morning clouds today but skies will become partly sunny by this afternoon with temperatures warming to around 21C/70F. Winds will be light this morning out of the west-southwest but will increase this afternoon. After 5pm winds will be 15-20mph and we will see the occasional wind gust in the low 20s after 6pm. Winds ease off through the night and a ridge of high pressure moves over the region on Sunday with winds becoming light out of the west and mostly sunny skies. Temperatures will be warm with max temperatures around 23C/73F. Temperatures will warm further into Monday.
