Things to Know

- Since 2014, the only 54-hole leader/co-leader to convert for the Puerto Rico Open win was Viktor Hovland in 2020
- In final start on a Minor Medical Extension, 36- and 54-hole leader Ryan Brehm needs a win or solo-second to retain status
- Seeking his second career PGA TOUR title (2018 John Deere Classic), Michael Kim contends in just his third start of the season
- Eight of the 10 players at 10-under or better seek their first career PGA TOUR victory (Michael Kim, Tommy Gainey)
- Puerto Rico native Rafa Campos sits T36 at 5-under 211 in his 13th appearances at the Puerto Rico Open

Third-Round Lead Notes

- 5 Third-round leaders/co-leaders to win the Puerto Rico Open (Viktor Hovland/2020, Chesson Hadley/2014, Scott Brown/2013, George McNeill/2012, Michael Bradley/2009)
- 6 Third-round leaders/co-leaders to win on TOUR in 2021-22 (Most recent: Joaquin Niemann/The Genesis Invitational)

- After eight straight pars to start his round, added five birdies and a bogey to finish with a 4-under 68
- Holds a lead/co-lead for the second time after any round on the PGA TOUR; led by a stroke at 11-under 133 in Friday's second round this week
- With his wife, Chelsey, as his caddie this week, a win would mark the first time a wife has caddied for a victorious husband since Justine and Patrick Reed at the 2013 Wyndham Championship
- Seeks first PGA TOUR title in 68th start while playing his final event on a Minor Medical Extension
- Victory this week would satisfy Minor Medical Extension and earn full exempt status for the remainder of this season, plus the next two seasons; solo-second would allow him to play out of the 126-150 category the remainder of this season
- Best result of three top-25s on TOUR: T11 at 2021 Puerto Rico Open where he posted 68-71-69-67—275 (-13)
- Owns two Korn Ferry Tour titles: 2016 WinCo Foods Portland Open, 2019 LECOM Health Challenge
- Finished T9 at Astara Golf Championship in Colombia last month, his first top-10 on the Korn Ferry Tour since August 2019

Miscellaneous Notes
