Cameron Smith (Won/-34)

- Earns fourth career PGA TOUR victory in his 157th start at the age of 28 years, 4 months, 22 days
- At 34-under, sets the PGA TOUR record (since 1950) for most strokes under par in a 72-hole event (prior to this week, Ernie Els held the record of 31-under en route to winning the 2003 Sentry Tournament of Champions)
- Moves to No. 3 in the FedExCup standings
- Joins Jim Furyk, Ernie Els, Vijay Singh, Zach Johnson and Justin Thomas as players to win both TOUR stops in Hawaii
- Improves to 1-for-2 when holding the 54-hole lead/co-lead in a TOUR stroke-play event (2021 FedEx St. Jude Championship/2nd); also held the lead with teammate Jonas Blixt before winning the 2017 Zurich Classic of New Orleans
- Four-time PGA TOUR winner: 2017 Zurich Classic of New Orleans (with Jonas Blixt), 2020 Sony Open in Hawaii, 2021 Zurich Classic of New Orleans (with Marc Leishman), 2022 Sentry Tournament of Champions
- Smith's victory snaps a streak of 11 straight American winners of the Sentry Tournament of Champions; fellow Aussie Geoff Ogilvy (2010) was the last of nine straight international winners of the event from 2002-2010
- Is the first player to carry the first-round lead/co-lead on to victory this season

Miscellaneous Notes

- Jon Rahm (2nd) finishes runner-up for the eighth time in his 114th start; equals the TOUR record for most birdies (32) in a 72-hole event, tying Paul Gow (2001 B.C. Open) and Mark Calcavecchia (2001 Waste Management Phoenix Open)
- Matt Jones (3rd) ties the 18-hole tournament scoring record with Sunday's 12-under 61 and records the lowest 36-hole score to par (23-under) in consecutive rounds in TOUR history
- Defending champion Harris English finished T30; last repeat winner of the event was Geoff Ogilvy (2010)
