Today – Winds will be inconsistent in velocity this morning but are forecast to become sustained between 14-18 mph, with gusts of 23-28 mph at times through the early afternoon before gradually weakening through the remainder of the day. Partly cloudy skies will become partly sunny in the afternoon with a high temperature in the low 70s. Cannot rule out a 10% chance for a brief area of drizzle late this afternoon or overnight, but more likely this activity remains in the mountains or evaporates before reaching the ground.

Tomorrow – Dry conditions will occur on Sunday under sunny skies. Temperatures are forecast to start off in the low 50s at sunrise and warm into the mid 70s during the afternoon. An inconsistent north-northwesterly breeze may occur for a portion of Sunday morning, with perhaps a few gusts of 15-20 mph followed by extended periods of lighter winds. By the afternoon, any winds will subside to the 5-12 mph range.
