Today – A weakening band of showers off to the west may provide intermittent rain chances between 8:30-10:00am. Widely scattered to isolated shower chances will remain possible during the late morning to early afternoon hours before dry conditions look to take over after 2-3pm. An isolated embedded thunderstorm cannot be ruled out this morning, but probabilities will hold at 15% or less.

Forecast rainfall: 0.10" or less.
