Today – Partly cloudy skies will give way to slight chances for thunderstorms this afternoon as an area of low pressure shifts up across the area from the southeast. Relatively drier air in place will limit thunderstorm development this afternoon, however a more unstable airmass will eventually filter in this evening and will give way to scattered thunderstorms over the region generally after 8pm. Scattered thunderstorms will remain possible through the overnight hours ahead of a cold front approaching from the west/northwest. Temperatures will peak in the mid-80s this afternoon.
