Things to Know:

- The Dominion Energy Charity Classic marks the season's first of three Charles Schwab Cup Playoffs events; as such, players were awarded two points for each dollar earned (as opposed to one point per dollar featured in regular-season events).
- The top 54 after this week qualify for the TimberTech Championship; no players moved inside or outside of that number at this week's Dominion Energy Charity Classic.
- Coming off a solo-second at last week's SAS Championship, Steven Alker comes from behind in the final round of his first start in the Dominion Energy Charity Championship to claim his fourth title of the season, matching Steve Stricker for most.
- Making his second start in the Dominion Energy Charity Classic (T6/2020), K.J. Choi birdies two of his last three holes to claim his second runner-up finish of the season (Hoag Classic).

Steven Alker – 1st / 69-65-68—202 (-14)

- Beginning the final round two strokes off Jerry Kelly's lead, Alker birdied three of his last four holes to post a 4-under 68 and claim his fourth PGA TOUR Champions title this season, tying him for most with Steve Stricker.
- Alker's two most recent wins have now been in come-from-behind fashion; at the KitchenAid Senior PGA Championship, he overcame a 4-stroke deficit heading into the final round before winning by three strokes.
- Alker claims his fourth title of the season, and fifth overall, a week after finishing solo-second at last week's SAS Championship.
- In the final round, Alker missed only two fairways in regulation and hit 16-of-18 greens in regulation.
- Alker wins in his first start at the Dominion Energy Charity Classic.
- Alker's win marks his 16th top-10 finish in 21 starts this season on PGA TOUR Champions.

Other Notes

- Making his second start in the Dominion Energy Charity Classic (T6/2020), K.J. Choi birdied two of his last three holes to close with a 5-under 67, good for solo-second at 13-under 203; the runner-up showing marks his second of the season and third inside the top-5 (2nd/Hoag Classic, T4/Senior PGA Championship); Choi was seeking a second title on PGA TOUR Champions (2021 PURE Insurance Championship Impacting First Tee); with the runner-up finish, is projected to move to No. 12 in the Charles Schwab Cup.
- Jerry Kelly, who held the 18- and 36-hole leads outright, closed with an even-par 72 to finish T3 at 12-under 204; he comes off a third-place finish at last week's SAS Championship; drops to 4-for-10 when attempting to convert a 36-hole lead/co-lead into victory on PGA TOUR Champions; with his finish, is projected to remain at No. 4 in the Charles Schwab Cup standings.
- Making his first start at the Dominion Energy Charity Classic, Padraig Harrington offset three bogeys in the final round with six birdies to close with a 3-under 69 to finish T3 at 12-under 204; Harrington was seeking his fourth title of the season on PGA TOUR Champions; is projected to remain at No. 2 in the Charles Schwab Cup.
- With what matched Brian Gay's second-round score as the field's low score, Rocco Mediate birdied four of his last six holes to close with a bogey-free 8-under 64 to finish T8 at 10-under 206; the top 10, his third of the season, comes a week after finishing solo-fourth at the SAS Championship; with the top-10 finish, moves from No. 35 in the Charles Schwab Cup to a projected No. 28.
- 2017 and 2021 Dominion Energy Charity Classic winner Bernhard Langer finished T14 at 8-under 208; the 6-time Charles Schwab Cup champion heads to next week's TimberTech Championship still at No. 7 in the standings.
