Quotables

Josh Teater on his third round... "Still in the driver's seat, I think. Usually 1-under out here maybe doesn't keep you there, but it was a little bit of a fight. Like on the last hole, just barely in the rough and playing for a flyer, still went too far and just narrowly missed that putt. But I made some good pars to hang in there and a nice birdie there on No. 16 after the poor 15th. But hey, just going to come back out tomorrow and have some fun."

Josh Teater on the last time he held a 54-hole lead... "Yeah, I'd have to think back a long time for that, but just to go out and have fun and just know that, hey, I'm in good hands. Just see where we end up."

Brandon Crick on carding his lowest round of the season... "I've been hitting it great since kind of the tail end of this last month and it's just all about getting the putts to fall. Finally I saw a few fall and gave myself some good opportunities, hit some good shots. It's always a bonus kind of on these par 3s to kind of get birdies, and I had a couple birdies on the front nine so I got off to a great start. Then I gave one back at the end, but it happens, you're going to hit bad shots. Had a nice up-and-down on No. 18 and looking forward to tomorrow."

Brandon Crick on being in contention heading into the final round... "It feels great obviously. You can't be disappointed with this. I'm excited to get out there. It has been a while, but it's nice to be within striking distance. It's a course that if you get off to a good start you can really rattle off some birdies kind of like I did today. Just hoping for that good start and continuing to see the putts drop and go from there."

Notes

- Making the 120th start of his Korn Ferry Tour career, Brandon Crick (T2 / -16) tallied eight birdies against one bogey for a 7-under 64, his lowest round this season and tied for the second lowest of his career
 - Best 54-hole position was a T2 at the 2019 Ellie Mae Classic, where he finished runner-up, one stroke behind champion Zac Blair
 - In his fifth season on the Korn Ferry Tour and making his 119th start, Crick has 22 career top-25 finishes, including two top-10s
- Chase Parker (T2 / -16) rolled in seven birdies against two bogeys to finish with a 5-under 66 and sits inside the top 10 after 54 holes for the first time this season and third of his career; making his 49th career Korn Ferry Tour start, Parker is in search of his first top-10 finish since a solo-fourth at the 2017 The Bahamas Great Abaco Classic at The Abaco Club

- After opening the week with back-to-back 65s (new career low rounds), Korn Ferry Tour rookie Chan Kim (T2 / -16) carded a third-round 3-under 68 to sit inside the top five for the first time after any round this year
 - Kim, who clinched eight international victories on the Japan Golf Tour from 2017-22, entered this week 54th on the Points List after logging four top-25 finishes in 11 starts this season, with his best result being a T15 at the Astara Chile Classic
- Rookie Mitchell Meissner (T5 / -15) carded a career-low 66 Saturday and sits inside the top 10 on the leaderboard for the first time after any round this season
 - Meissner played on PGA TOUR Latinoamérica last season and finished the season ranked No. 1 on the final Totalplay Cup Standings after logging nine top-10 finishes in 12 starts, including three as runner-up
- Adrien Dumont de Chassart (T5 / -15), who recently placed No. 3 in the PGA TOUR University Class of 2023, logged his third consecutive round of 5-under par this week; carded a third-round bogey-free 5-under 66 with an eagle at the 575-yard par-5 second and birdies at Nos. 4, 5 and 12
 - Played collegiately at the University of Illinois, where he became the third player in Big Ten Conference history to earn the Big Ten Player of the Year award in three consecutive years (2021, 2022, 2023)
- Meissner, Chassart and Crick are tied with Spencer Levin (T23 / -10) for the fewest number of bogey-or-worse holes with two apiece
- Patrick Flavin (T7 / -13) tied Crick for the low rounds of the day with matching 7-under 64s; his seven birdies came at three par 5s (Nos. 2, 5, 16), three par 4s (Nos. 7, 10, 13) and the par-3 fourth; marks his lowest round of the season and the second best of his career, only behind his third-round 62 at the 2021 Blue Cross & Blue Shield of Kansas Wichita Open Benefitting KU Wichita Pediatrics
- Three-time Korn Ferry Tour winner David Skinnis (T7 / -13) sits inside the top 10 after 54 holes for his third consecutive start (T9 at AdventHealth Championship, T3 at HomeTown Lenders Championship) and fourth time this season (also held outright 54-hole lead at Club Car Championship at The Landings Golf & Athletic Club, which he went on to win)
 - Currently ranked No. 4 on the Points List, Skinnis is bidding for his fifth top-10 finish in just his 11th start this season
