

- Graduated from the Korn Ferry Tour following the 2017 season, which featured five top-10s and 10 top-25s, including a win at the Price Cutter Charity Championship and T2 at the WinCo Foods Portland Open
- Finished No. 136 in the 2017-18 FedExCup Standings on the PGA TOUR and retained status as a member of The Finals 25 with a T3 at the 2018 Korn Ferry Tour Championship presented by United Leasing & Finance, his last top-10 in PGA TOUR-sanctioned play
- Relegated to the Korn Ferry Tour for the 2020-21 season following a No. 181 finish in the 2018-19 FedExCup Standings on TOUR
- Played the past two seasons on the Korn Ferry Tour (2020-21, 2022) with Past Champion status, but has only made 39 starts out of a possible 72 events due to his place in the priority ranking
- Represented Canada and won the men's golf competition at the 2013 Maccabiah Games in Israel
- Played competitive ice hockey until he was about 15 years old and shot 118 in his first Canadian Junior Golf Association tournament

Rafael Campos (2nd / -11)

- In Tuesday's third round, front nine featured birdies on the par-4 fifth and par-3 sixth, as well as an eagle on the par-5 eighth, while his back nine featured four birdies (Nos. 12, 14, 15 and 16) and his lone bogey of the day at the par-4 13th
- One of nine players who made the cut with a triple bogey or worse this week (triple bogeyed par-4 fifth; Campos and Max Greyserman (T5 / -8) are the only two who sit higher than T27 through the third round
- Making his 165th start this week across the PGA TOUR (53) and Korn Ferry Tour (112), stands solo second or higher through 54 holes for the fourth time in his career (T1 at 2021 Corales Puntacana Championship [PGA TOUR] / finished T2; T1 at 2021 Puerto Rico Open / finished T3; T1 at 2017 Corales Puntacana Championship [Korn Ferry Tour] / finished T3)
- Playing out of the Past Champion 3-4 Years category for the 2023 season via his win at the 2019 The Bahamas Great Abaco Classic at The Abaco Club, his only PGA TOUR-sanctioned victory
- Finished No. 164 on the 2022 Korn Ferry Tour Points List, recording just five made cuts in 20 starts
- Graduated from the Korn Ferry Tour following the 2019 season off the strength of his victory, playing the 2019-20 and 2020-21 seasons on the PGA TOUR but finishing outside the top 150 of the FedExCup Standings both seasons
- Represented Puerto Rico in the 2020 Tokyo Olympics
- Wife, Stephanie, is caddying for him this week
- Has known Brian Shaver, Director of Golf at The Abaco Club Winding Bay, since he was age 9; Shaver previously worked in Puerto Rico when Campos learned to play golf

Quotables

- Ben Silverman on playing as a sponsor exemption this week: "I was just, in the first place, very grateful to be given the opportunity for the sponsor exemption. I feel like I deserve it, but I'm very, very grateful. This morning, one of the tournament committee guys was giving me a ride up for me to restart my round, I was like, 'Hey, thanks, man. I appreciate the invite.' It was like around end of November (when he got the exemption). I was very pumped."
- Silverman on the battle of being subject to the reshuffle the last two seasons: it can be a battle not knowing when you're going to get a start. I've just tried to take the attitude of be ready whenever the opportunity comes up. So I've been training, practicing just as hard as if I have a full season and the opportunity came, so I feel ready.
- Past champion Rafael Campos on being in contention for the first time since 2021: "It was just really cool to experience the nerves the last like five holes. Like I said, it's been a long time. I think it was since Corales, the PGA TOUR tournament in Corales, where I finished tied for second. That's when I last was really in contention."

Notes

- Tom Whitney (T3 / -9), Max Greyserman (T5 / -8), Mason Andersen (T13 / -6), and Curtis Luck (T13 / -6) are tied for the most total birdies in the field (18 apiece)
- Chase Seiffert (T5 / -8) has the fewest scores of bogey or worse this week (three bogeys)
- Four bogey-free rounds were recorded Tuesday – Joey Garber (T5 / -8), 5-under 67; Ben Kohles (T10 / -7) and Brandon Crick (T22 / -5), 4-under 68s; Chandler Phillips (T22 / -5), 3-under 69