Today – Partly cloudy becoming sunny with dry conditions largely expected throughout the day due to a dry and stable airmass that has become entrenched across the region. The temperature will reach a high near 83°F. Northeasterly winds will be breezy, becoming sustained between 12-20 mph with gusts in the 20-26 mph range – strongest along the ocean-facing holes of the course. Temperatures will fall back into the lower 70s overnight with dry conditions likely to persist.
