Aon Insight

With water left protecting a green that the longest players in the field can reach, the 14th at Quail Hollow Club is a short par 4 that always keeps players and caddies on their toes. While the rate of players going for the green hasn't varied dependent on hole location, scoring certainly has. A back pin leads to more bogeys, lessening the value of going for this green with the tee shot. When the pin is not on the back third of the green, players make birdie or better 42% of the time.

What is the Aon Risk Reward Challenge?

The Aon Risk Reward Challenge is a season-long competition on the PGA TOUR and LPGA Tour testing the abilities of the world's best players to make thoughtful, strategic decisions on the most challenging holes ("Aon Risk Reward Challenge holes") throughout the year

At the end of the regular season, the most consistent player across each tour, with the lowest average score under par, on the Aon Risk Reward Challenge holes captures the $1 million prize.

Aon is committed to a diverse workforce and an inclusive culture where everyone can thrive, ensuring delivery of the best innovative solutions for clients. As such, providing equal prize money to both the PGA and LPGA Tours aligns with Aon's core values and brand.

Aon's Risk Reward Challenge Scoring

One hole is selected at each tournament as the designated Aon Risk Reward Challenge hole for the week (hole is strategically challenging in nature)

For every participating event, a player's best two scores on the designated hole counts towards the season-long leaderboard
