Extended forecast – The forecast has trended much drier for Saturday as the bulk of the moisture will remain to the south and west of Charlotte on Saturday. Mostly cloudy skies can be expected with only a small chance for a passing shower. Otherwise, temperatures will be mild with highs in the low 70s. Warmer and more humid conditions return Sunday with highs warming to around 80 degrees. Thunderstorms will likely develop across the mountains that could move into the Charlotte area during the late afternoon and early evening hours.
