Extended forecast – It will be a little cooler and less humid on Friday with highs around 80 degrees under partly cloudy skies. Another cold front will move through the state late Friday into early Saturday morning bringing a slight chance for showers. Otherwise, cooler and even drier air will provide more comfortable conditions Saturday afternoon with highs in the low 70s. A cool start to the day Sunday with lows in the low 50s. Mostly sunny skies with temperatures warm into the low 70s during the afternoon making for a beautiful finish.
