

The Senior Open Forecast

7 AM Update

Saturday, 29 July 2023

Synopsis -

At 7 AM, weather radar shows scattered showers moving from SW to NE very quickly across the area. We can expect brief periodic downpours through 10 AM as a weak disturbance moves through the area. Most of the day will feature a mix of sun and clouds along with gusty WSW winds 15 - 20 MPH with gusts to 25 MPH this morning, increasing to 20 - 25 MPH this afternoon with gusts to 30 MPH at times. A few spotty brief showers at times through the day today can't be ruled out but winds are the main issue. The next storm will come in on Sunday morning bringing more rain by 10 AM and very windy conditions to our area with WSW winds blowing 25 to 35 MPH with some gusts 35 - 40 MPH in the afternoon. Rainfall on Sunday looks to be around 4 - 8 mm during play.
