Quotables

Tanner Gore on holding the outright lead entering the final round... “You know, I'm pretty happy. I feel a lot of emotions right now. Having to Monday qualify and just being able to do that and get a spot in the field, let alone to be on top of the leaderboard after three rounds, is pretty remarkable. I'm just very grateful for the opportunities.”

Gore on what he's looking forward to in the final round... “I'm just excited just to learn. I learned a lot today, first time I was in the final group or even in contention in a Korn Ferry Tour event. You learn a lot. You have to obviously give some time to reflect. I haven't really thought about it but definitely going to be a fun experience tomorrow.”
