Today – Another hot day in store for Norman, however a weak boundary situated over the area will cause winds to be much weaker. Given this boundary, a very low (5-10%) for rain/lightning will be included in the forecast but the expectation is dry conditions prevail. Afternoon temperatures will approach 100F with peak heat indices near 105F. South/southwest winds will be in place and should remain under 15 mph. Sunrise: 6:16am / Sunset: 8:47pm
