Today – Isolated pop-up showers and thunderstorms will remain possible on and off throughout the afternoon, but any impacts would likely be short-lived. Chances will begin lessening after 4pm and should stay mostly dry after 6pm. Winds will be in somewhat of a lull this morning as the front continues to slowly push off to the east, but gusts could push back into the lower 20s during the afternoon.

Monday – Mostly dry conditions expected Monday. Some mixed skies early expected to give way to partly cloudy skies during the afternoon. Can't rule out a passing shower in the afternoon, but chances are very low, and any rain would be light. Winds lessen further as well, with gusts of only up to 15 mph during the afternoon.
