Extended forecast – A mix of sun and clouds and warm temperatures continue Friday with highs in the low to mid 80s. Breezy, warmer and more humid conditions arrives Saturday with highs in the upper 80s. Cannot rule out an isolated thunderstorm developing during the afternoon, but most locations should remain dry. The next cold front is expected to bring the chance for showers and isolated thunderstorms for the first half of the day Sunday before shifting south. Much cooler conditions return behind the front Monday with lows in the 50s and highs in the mid 70s.
