J.T. Poston (T1/-11)

- Third career 36-hole lead/co-lead in individual stroke-play events on TOUR; 1-for-2 to date, with the lone victory coming after his most recent 36-hole lead (won the 2022 John Deere Classic wire-to-wire)
- Three top-10s at the RBC Heritage (T6/2019, T8/2020, T3/2022), tied for the most of any player since making his tournament debut in 2019 (Patrick Cantlay, Shane Lowry)
- Two top-10s in the previous four Signature Events this season (T5/The Sentry, T10/The Genesis Invitational)
- Two-time PGA TOUR winner (2022 John Deere Classic, 2019 Wyndham Championship)

Miscellaneous Notes

- In his tournament debut at the RBC Heritage, Ludvig Åberg (T5/-10) looks for his second career victory (won the 2023 RSM Classic) and has finished inside the top 25 in his past seven starts, including two as solo runner-up (AT&T Pebble Beach Pro-Am and last week's Masters Tournament); Åberg leads the field through two rounds in Strokes Gained: Off the Tee (3.085) and Approach the Green (5.136)
- Patrick Cantlay (T8/-9) is making his seventh start at the RBC Heritage and leads all players with five top-10 finishes in the event since making his tournament debut in 2017 (3rd/2023, 2nd/2022, T3/2019, T7/2018, T3/2017); no other player has more than three top-10s over the same span
- Defending champion Matt Fitzpatrick (T18/-6) looks to become the first player since Boo Weekley in 2008 to successfully defend a title at the RBC Heritage
- Coming off his win at last week's Masters Tournament, FedExCup leader and World No. 1 Scottie Scheffler (T10/-8) looks to become the first player since Tiger Woods in 2006 to win a major and win on TOUR the following week (Woods won the PGA Championship and followed it with a win at the WGC-Bridgestone Invitational)
- Fourth event on TOUR this season with at least four players tied for the 36-hole lead (4/Mexico Open at Vidanta, 6/Arnold Palmer Invitational presented by Mastercard, 5/Valspar Championship)
