Today – A rather dry and cool airmass for Hawaii standards has spread across Oahu. Showers today favor the north shore of the island, although a brief shower could reach Waialae, mainly before 9am and after 3pm. Winds are tricky today since the nearby terrain will block some of the northerly flow. Regardless, winds near 20 mph are expected this afternoon, with low potential for gusts closer to 25 mph. Forecast rainfall: Trace. Sunrise: 7:11am / Sunset: 6:08pm

Extended forecast – A dry and stable airmass will remain over the Islands this weekend. Mostly sunny to partly cloudy skies can be expected with rain chances close to 0%. Northerly winds will be in place through Saturday with a few gusts over 15 mph possible during the afternoon. Winds will diminish significantly Saturday night into Sunday.
