Today – A stable pattern remains in place over Maui with the threat for rain minimal. With that said, a brief passing shower could occur this morning but any rainfall would be light. A predominate east/northeast wind is expected today, however periods of light erratic winds are possible this morning. By this afternoon, gusts around 20 mph will be possible. Forecast rainfall: Trace.

Tomorrow – Trade Winds will weaken drastically as a cold front approaches Hawaii. This front will remain far enough west that rain chances will remain low (10%) and dry conditions likely prevail at Kapalua. Winds will be light and possibly erratic much of the day, however a predominant southwesterly wind may develop for the afternoon hours. Sunrise: 7:05am / Sunset: 6:00pm
