Today – Overnight shower activity will diminish by 8am with a period of dry conditions expected into the early afternoon. With daytime heating, spotty shower redevelopment will be possible in the vicinity of TPC Scottsdale after 2pm. Given the atmospheric conditions in place, lightning can't be ruled out. Otherwise, temperatures today will climb into the middle 50s with a westerly wind up to 6-12 mph developing in the afternoon. Forecast rainfall: Less than 0.10". Sunrise: 7:16am / Sunset: 6:07pm

Extended forecast – Clearing skies are expected tonight with temperatures falling into the middle 30s. As long as winds become calm, frost will likely develop. After a chilly start Sunday morning, temperatures will rebound towards 60 degrees with plenty of sunshine. Frost development is again possible Monday, otherwise daytime temperatures will be warmer with sunny skies overhead. Winds will be insignificant through this period.
