

The_Senior_Open Forecast 6 AM Update Sunday, 28 July 2024

Synopsis -
 At 6 AM, skies were clear and temperatures cool again after the rain last night. It is currently 11 C (52 F) with WNW winds blowing 4 - 8 MPH. I expect some some clouds to drift in across the area between 7 - 9 AM but high-pressure will dominate our weather today bringing us partly sunny skies and mild temperatures through the rest of the day. WNW winds early this morning will gradually shift throughout the day to the west by mid-morning, then southwest by noon and then to the south by the end of play and increase to 10 - 15 MPH for most the afternoon. No rain is expected today.
