0530 AM Update

Thursday, 25 July 2024

Synopsis -

At 0530 AM, low clouds blanketed the area with light SW winds blowing 2 - 4 MPH. Today will feature a mix of sun and clouds this morning with increasing clouds in the afternoon with scattered showers possible after 5 PM. Winds will increase from the SW this morning to 10 - 15 MPH and then 12 - 18 MPH through the afternoon as a front approaches from the west. Scattered showers this evening will be brief and fast moving so rain totals will remain low 1 - 3 mm. I expect clouds to partially clear overnight causing temperatures to fall to around 11 C (52 F) Friday morning with partly cloudy skies. Friday will be partly sunny, breezy and mild ahead of the next front that will bring a slight chance for isolated afternoon showers to our area for Saturday afternoon but back to some sun for Sunday as high-pressure builds into the area from the SW.
