6 AM Update

Wednesday, 24 July 2024

Synopsis - At 6 AM, a deck of high clouds blanket the area with a few peeks of sun at times. Winds will remain light into the afternoon before increasing to 10 - 15 MPH after 5 PM from the south. Today will feature a mix of sun and clouds with temperatures in the upper teens C (around 63 F). A fast moving front will push clouds into our area tonight with a slight chance for a brief shower but a better chance for scattered showers will come late Thursday afternoon as the front passes through the area. I'm expecting breezier weather Thursday through Sunday with peeks of sun and mild temperatures in the upper teens C (mid 60s F) for the weekend as high-pressure builds into the area from the SW.
