Today – Scattered showers and embedded thunderstorms are expected this morning, especially from about 8am-1pm. A lull in thunderstorm activity is possible during the early afternoon before thunderstorms redevelop later in the afternoon. Potential exists for a strong to severe thunderstorm later this afternoon, with primary threats including heavy rainfall, frequent lightning, quarter-size hail, and damaging wind gusts. Winds outside of thunderstorms will be variable-southeasterly at 5-8 mph.

Rainfall: 0.50-1.00", locally higher amounts exceeding 1.50" possible
