Welcome to The Guide

Welcome to the BMW Championship / Western Open Records & Statistics Guide for 2025.

This 393-page volume is the 36th edition of a guide compiled since 1990, when the WGA's own Western Open Media Guide was confined to a few pages. There are three main sections:

1. A detailed 66-page record book, covering the 121 playings of the championship under all its names from 1899 onward.

2. A 128-page year-by-year championship history, updated and corrected from the 2024 edition. Details of playing statistics (driving distance, fairways hit, greens in regulation, putts, sand saves) for all players are featured for the last eight tournaments. The results for 2016 through 2024, including a game story, are thus in two-page spreads.

3. A 198-page alphabetical register of contestants. Research continues on players from the early days with similar names, with many of the inconsistencies cleared up for this edition.

Since 1990's first edition, focusing on the championship's modern-day Chicago era, interest in golf records and statistics, the Western Open included, has grown. Neglect in keeping any but the most rudimentary records for the Western until it returned to Chicago in 1962, and often for years after, meant the records in this Guide, inspired by Bill Inglish's original Masters Tournament record book, had to be compiled independently.

The records and statistics in this Guide are derived from an exclusive database of 15,126 player reports, gleaned from an extensive file of contemporary newspaper and magazine reports compiled on trips to 20 cities, from Buffalo to Memphis to Los Angeles. The growth of online newspaper archives has been a boon.

Some records for players with only one round listed in a given year may never be found. Newspapers often printed abbreviated scoring agate on also-rans, notably when the Western attracted over 200 players. Just under four percent of the overall database entries, from 1908 to 1948, are in that category. The search continues.

Entries from 1949 forward have been crosschecked against the WGA's original reports, along with records from the PGA of America's Tournament Bureau, subsequently the Tournament Players Division, and its successor, the PGA Tour. (Highlights of the PGA Tour's player statistics, originally compiled by Byron Ferguson and now punched into the ShotLink computer system, are included for the past 27 years.)

This is the most complete record of the BMW / Western Open, and perhaps any golf championship.

We invite your thoughts on corrections and improvements to the Guide, and hope you find it useful.

The 1962 Western, according to print reports, had all 30 top money winners to that point in the season. Beginning 2000, the PGA Tour included only members in its main official money list. Above figures include non-members playing in Tour events in an overall top 100. In 2013, the top 20 players in the world rankings and the top 39 on the PGA Tour money list played. Beginning 2022, players jumping to LIV Golf were removed from the money lost and did not score Official World Golf Ranking points. Beginning 2023, field limited to top 50 in PGA Tour FedEx Cup points.

The Final Nine Holes

Often, the championship really does begin on the 10th tee on Sunday. This chart shows the eventual winner's standing at 63 holes. It notes his relationship to those in second place if he led or shared the lead, or to the leader if he trailed. Since 1958, the leader or co-leader has gone on to win 45 of 67 times, 67.16 percent of the time, including nine of the last 11 years. Data on the 63-hole standings before 1958 is incomplete. *-playoff.

Championship Leaders Round by Round

In the Western Open / BMW Championship, virtually no lead is safe. Since the championship's inception in 1899, only 12 champions have led wire-to-wire. It's only happened four times since 1933, including Marc Leishman's run in 2017, Jason Day's victory in 2015 and Camilo Villegas' triumph in 2008. Here's the breakdown of who was leading after each round of each Western Open.

Notable Achievements

ELDRICK "TIGER" WOODS, the only player to capture the consecutive Grand Slam as a professional, is the only player to win the Players Championship, Masters, U.S. Open, Western Open, British Open, Western Amateur, PGA Championship, Tour Championship, U.S. Amateur and Canadian Open in a career. He did it all by age 25, when, in March 2001, he won the Players Championship. He is the only player to hold the U.S. Amateur, Masters and Western Open titles simultaneously. Woods won the U.S. Amateur in August 1996, the Masters in April 1997 and the Western Open in July 1997. Woods is also the youngest to win the Western Open twice, at ages 21 and 23, and the youngest to hold the Western Open and PGA Championship crowns at the same time (at 23). His 2000 U.S. Open win at Pebble Beach made him the youngest to hold all three simultaneously (at 24), and the first Western Open-U.S. Open-PGA triple champion since Ben Hogan, who won all three in 1948. Woods' 2000 British Open victory allowed him to match Jack Nicklaus as a winner of the four professional majors, the Western Amateur, U.S. Amateur, and Western Open. His Canadian Open win in September 2000 put him 1-up on Nicklaus.

JACK NICKLAUS was the first player to win the Masters, U.S. Open, Western Open, British Open, Western Amateur, PGA Championship and U.S. Amateur in his career. He won all of them (for at least the first time) within an eight-year span beginning in 1959. The Western Open, in 1967, was the final piece of the puzzle. Only Tiger Woods did it more quickly. Nicklaus added the first edition of the then-titled Tournament Players Championship in 1974.

WILLIE ANDERSON was the first player to win the U.S. Open and Western Open in back-to-back years. Anderson won three U.S. Opens in succession from 1903-05 and a pair of Westerns in 1908-09. From 1901 to 1905, he won one Open or the other each year, winning both in 1904. He's first all-time in the Western Open Rankings thanks to four Western Open titles in seven appearances.

BEN HOGAN was the first player to win the Western and two other majors in the same year. In 1948, Hogan captured the PGA Championship in May, the U.S. Open in June and the Western Open from July 29-Aug. 1, many considering it the American Triple Crown. Hogan's victory in the 1946 Western was his first in a major championship.

SAM SNEAD duplicated Hogan's achievement in 1949. He won the Masters in April, the PGA Championship in May and the Western Open in July. Hogan and Snead were the only players to win two other majors and the Western in the same year for more than 40 years.

RALPH GULDAHL is the only player to win both the Western Open and the U.S. Open back-to-back in the same years. Guldahl won the Western three straight years - the only player to do so - beginning in 1936, and also annexed the 1937 and 1938 U.S. Opens. His prize money in those five championships: $3,750, with $1,750 for the three Westerns and $2,000 for the two U.S. Opens. His 1938 wins came five days apart, the U.S. Open on Saturday, June 11 and the Western Open on Thursday, June 16. That's the shortest time span between wins in significant championships in golf history. Guldahl also won the 1939 Masters, giving him six wins in 11 majors, including three in four starts.

BILLY CASPER is the last player to win the U.S. Open and Western Open in consecutive weeks. He did it in 1966, capturing the National Open at Olympic Club in the famous playoff with Arnold Palmer, then won by three strokes six days later on Medinah's No. 3 course. Four other players managed back-to-back USGA Open-WGA Open double championships previously: Willie Smith (1899), Willie Anderson (1904), Alex Smith (1906) and, as detailed above, Ralph Guldahl (1938). The Western and U.S. Opens have been played on adjacent weeks on 22 occasions, including 1990, when Western winner Wayne Levi didn't play at Medinah and U.S. Open champion Hale Irwin didn't tee off at Butler National. In 1998, Lee Janzen won the U.S. Open at Olympic but failed to double in the Western at Cog Hill.

AL GEIBERGER put the most time between winning a major and winning the Western. He captured the 1966 PGA at Firestone, and didn't win the Western until a decade later at Butler National.

NICK PRICE is the only player to win the Western Open, British Open and PGA Championship in the same year. He matched the efforts of Hogan and Snead in winning the Western and two majors in the same year in 1994.

RORY McILROY is the fourth player to win the Western Open / BMW and the professional grand slam. He completed the feat by winning the 2025 Masters, joining Gene Sarazen, Jack Nicklaus and Tiger Woods. Like Nicklaus and Woods, he also has won the Players Championship.

Johnson dominates en route to second BMW title

By Tim Cronin
Reporting from Carmel, Indiana

Bulldozing the field doesn't make for dramatic golf. That depends on birdies and bogeys being bounced back and forth among the leaders on a Sunday afternoon.

When the leader yields bogeys early, then goes on a birdie binge, the drama cannot be manufactured.

It is instead replaced by awe. That's the only way to watch Dustin Johnson these days. The big hitter won the U.S. Open in June by overpowering Oakmont and outlasting the United States Golf Association's rulesmakers. He captured the big payday at Firestone, another big hitter's layout, in his next start.

On Sun., Sept. 11, his final round 5-under-par 67 at Crooked Stick Golf Club allowed him a three-stroke victory over Paul Casey in the BMW Championship. His total of 265 wasn't a tournament record – and the numbers go back to the first Western Open in 1899 all the way to this 113th edition – but his score in relation to par, a gaudy 23 under, is.

He was 15-under on the par-5s, the best known number by a winner. He's won the old championship twice in the last seven playings, including his one-stroke victory over Casey on Cog Hill's Dubsdread course in 2010.

The numbers tell the story. Johnson used a combination of power (first in driving distance this week, averaging 308.6 yards), accuracy (hitting 52 greens in regulation), and, having selected a new putter, precise putting (only 103 putts during the week, fewest by a Western Open / BMW winner since at least 2003, and only two three-putt greens, both on Sunday). What's not to like?

"I've got a lot of confidence," he said on the 18th green after a tap-in wrapped up his $1.53 million triumph. "This week, the putter really worked."

Everything worked. Johnson was two strokes off leader Roberto Castro after 18 holes, tied with him through 36, and led Casey by three entering the final round.

Johnson led by four after a birdie at the first. A few minutes later, it looked like a battle, as Johnson bogeyed the second and third and Casey birdied them. It appeared that Casey, who lost a three-stroke last Monday at the Deutsche Bank Championship, had a chance at his first PGA Tour win in seven years. But Johnson birdied four of the next five holes and began the runaway, cheered on by the gallery of about 28,000 on a sunny day.

It was sealed at the par-5 15th, which he eagled for the second time in three days moments after Casey did so. Johnson's opponent had thrown his best punch and the big guy never felt it.

"That was the turning point," Johnson said.

The duo parred in and Casey matched Johnson's 67, as did Castro, who finished at 17-under 271, which would have won eight of the last 12 Western / BMWs. Instead, it got him third place, and five strokes ahead of the quintet of Ryan Palmer, Adam Scott, Matt Kuchar, J.B. Holmes and Charl Schwartzel in fourth.

Schwartzel's bogey-free 8-under 64 was the round of the day on the third straight day of lift, clean and place in fairways and closely-mown areas, one reason the scoreboard glowed red.

Johnson likely would have won no matter what the rules. The wedge game that he worked so hard over the winter on is the key to his big year.

"I know if I'm driving it well and hitting it in the fairway and get a wedge in my hand I'm going to have good looks at birdies," Johnson said. "Today I hit a lot of great wedge shots. It started on the first hole."

His 122-yard sand wedge stopped 4 feet 7 inches from the cup. He sank 21 and 7 footers on the fourth and fifth holes, dropped a 120-yard wedge 4 feet from the hole on the seventh, and sank a 5-footer for birdie on the eighth. He was 21-under with 10 holes to play.

Casey would have been excused if he had melted away, but he hung in there, to no avail.

Leishman blows away field, scoring records at Conway Farms

By Tim Cronin
Reporting from Lake Forest, Illinois

Vindication.

Marc Leishman earned that along with the title of BMW Championship winner on Sun., Sept. 17.

Thirteen days earlier, Leishman blew up on the back nine of TPC Boston, allowing Justin Thomas to pass him and win the second tournament in the PGA Tour's playoff series.

He'd won tournaments on six tours – including the Travelers in 2012 and the Arnold Palmer Invitational earlier this year – but Leishman, for better or worse, was better known for dropping a playoff to Zach Johnson in the British Open at St. Andrews and finishing tied for fourth in the 2013 Masters, where he flirted with trying on a green jacket on the back nine.

It was more like a strait jacket.

This one, he would not lose.

This one, Leishman won going away, scoring a Western Open / BMW record 261 with a final-round 67 at Conway Farms Golf Club, shoving the record aggregates of Tiger Woods (2007) and Jason Day (2015) aside. His 23-under-par mark in the lowest-scoring Western / BMW in its 114-tournament history also matched the record for under-par set by Dustin Johnson at Crooked Stick Golf Club last year, when Johnson shot 265 on the par-72 course near Indianapolis.

Leishman beat Justin Rose and Rickie Fowler by five strokes in his wire-to-wire triumph. Rose scored 6-under 65 for his 18-under total of 266, while Fowler, the epitome of hot and cold all week, posted a 67. Twice, Rose closed the gap to two strokes, but with Leishman playing nearly flawless golf – he had two final-round bogeys and six for the week to go with 29 birdies – either Rose or Fowler would have needed to shoot 61 to force extra holes.

"I had a big enough buffer to get it done, and I got it done," Leishman said.

Over the years, the big 33-year-old Australian had built an underdog's resume. He'd even finished tied for second with Jim Furyk in the 2009 BMW at Cog Hill. Nobody remembers because they finished eight strokes behind Tiger Woods.

That was typical for Leishman. Even at Bay Hill this year, the story wasn't so much that Leishman won but that Arnold Palmer wasn't there to shake his hand at the 72nd green.

Leishman was the big bearded guy who was also known more for the brush with death his wife Audrey endured a little over two years ago. Completely recovered, they've had a third child and devote time to the Begin Again Foundation, which raises and directs funds toward sepsis awareness. It has aided more than 700 families in the last 18 months.

Boston, though – finishing with a 40 and a shank between the legs of an NBC cameraman – grated.

"After what I did at the Dell (at TPC Boston), there's determination to finish this one off, and my game is in a better spot," he said before the final round. "I always tell my wife, if I have a bad round, give me 10 minutes. That one probably took a day."

And added to the anonymity.

"I kind of like that I can go wherever I want and no one knows who I am, and that's pretty cool," Leishman added. "I've been out for dinner with Rickie and Jas (Jason Day) and a lot of the guys, Scotty (Adam Scott), and everyone knows who they are.

"That will probably change, but I need to start lifting more trophies."

Consider it done.

Winning at Conway Farms not only gave him unparalleled momentum entering the Tour Championship, it moved him to fourth in the playoff race and thus assured him of the FedEx Cup title and $10 million pot o'gold if he wins at East Lake Golf Club, as Billy Horschel did in 2014. (Standings leader Jordan Spieth and the others in the top five, Thomas, Dustin Johnson and Jon Rahm, also can do so.)

The difference between Labor Day near Boston and Sunday in Lake Forest was simple: This time, Leishman hit the shots where he wanted to and made key birdie putts down the stretch. A snake of a 28-footer on the par-4 15th followed by a 10-footer on the par-4 16th to go to 22-under, extending his lead over Rose to three strokes, elicited fist pumps from the usually placid Australian, especially on No. 16.

"I'd say that was a little bigger than the one on 15 because it gave me a four-shot buffer at the time," Leishman said. "You've got to do something drastically wrong to lose a four-shot lead with two to play."

Bradley over Rose in playoff as Tour scoring average falls

By Tim Cronin
Reporting from Newtown Square, Pennsylvania

Six years removed from his last victory, Keegan Bradley had receded into the memories of many. He'd won a PGA Championship, he had a quirky stutter-step approach to the ball, and he was LPGA legend Pat Bradley's nephew.

As he discarded the long putter when the anchoring bad was implemented, he'd also disappeared from leader boards.

He's back. Scoring a tournament-record 20-under-par 260 brought him back, but he still needed to beat Justin Rose, who nearly always wins when big-time golf comes to Philadelphia.

It took a playoff, but Bradley pulled it off, saving par while Rose bogeyed the first playoff hole at Aronimink Golf Club on Mon., Sept. 10, to capture a rain-soaked and mud-caked BMW Championship, which set a PGA Tour record for scoring average (67.880).

Not bad for someone who went to bed Saturday night knowing he was within the top 30 for Tour Championship qualification thanks to big par putts on the last two holes of his third round, and would stay there if the final round was wiped out.

"It was the weirdest couple of days," Bradley said. "I thought, man, if they call it I'm good, but I'm also glad I'm only three back. Thankfully we got out here and played, and I made it to Atlanta and more now."

Bradley, who finished with his second 6-under 64 of the week, had birdied the 14th, 16th and 17th holes to get to 21-under and the lead, but bogeyed the last with a drive to the muddy left rough and an approach into the luxury suites to the right to fall back to 20-under.

"I played that 18th hole so bad," Bradley said. "A mud ball on my second but a bad putt and the worst drive I hit all week. It left a bad taste in my mouth."

Rose came in at 260 in the following group via a closing 3-under 67. He also bogeyed the last, leaving his second shot well short when his 4-iron was killed by a gust of wind, then failing to save par.

They would play the 18th again, and this time Bradley found the fairway, put his second in the collar 23 feet from the cup, and got up-and-down for his four.

Rose had made all 48 putts inside of five feet in regulation, but in the playoff from 7 feet 8 inches, he found the left edge.

Bradley had no trouble converting from 17 inches for his first victory since 2012 at Firestone, erasing the bad taste. Within seconds, he was lifting wife Jillian and son Logan in the air as high as he'd lift the J.K. Wadley Cup.

"I thought to win and to have my son there, that would be the most incredible feeling," Bradley said. "I'd seen it on TV so much. That was just awesome."

Rose climbed back to No. 1 in the world ranking even with the loss.

"It's a boyhood dream," Rose said of the achievement, which comes without a trophy but with a great deal of pride.

Bradley's ride from PGA champion and a three-time winner, the last time at Firestone in 2012, to the bottom and back up was a difficult one, complicated by changing from the long putter to a conventional one.

"I went back and forth from an arm lock to a short putter, but I didn't get mechanical with the long putter," Bradley said. "When I got my swing to where it is, I was able to really sit down and focus on the fundamentals of putting with an arm putter."

Bradley said watching Webb Simpson adapt similarly helped him immensely.

Two weeks ago at the first playoff tournament at Plainfield Country Club, he was in the final twosome after a third-round 62. He shot 78, and it looked like the Bradley of old was replaced by an old Bradley.

Not so at Aronimink. He was back.

Thomas leads birdie parade on humbled Medinah No. 3

By Tim Cronin
Reporting from Medinah, Illinois

Justin Thomas made 27 birdies and two eagles during the week on Medinah No. 3, but the biggest reaction he made all week came when he sank a 14-foot putt to save par on the treacherous par-4 12th hole in the final round on Sun., Aug. 18.

An instant after the ball tumbled into the cup, Thomas' right fist punched the air. His lead over challenger Patrick Cantlay in the BMW Championship would remain three strokes. It had been six at the start of the day, then was whittled to five, four and then two with a two-shot swing on the par-5 10th. Thomas had birdied the 11th with a lovely pitch to two feet to go three strokes ahead, but with Cantlay threatening, he couldn't afford another miscue.

Thus, the long punch-out to the fairway after finding the right rough off the tee, followed by the pitch to 14 feet. Followed by, to his great relief, the par-saving putt.

"The birdie on 11 was big but the par on 12 was bigger," Thomas said. "The tee shot was right behind a tree, and Jimmy (Johnson, his caddie) said, 'Chip it out.' That putt gave me a lot of momentum."

Enough for him to grab the BMW Championship by the keyring and drive away with it.

Cantlay would get no closer than three strokes the rest of the way, and while Hideki Matsuyama, who needed only 20 putts in slapping his second 63 in three days on the scoreboard, he was never a threat.

Thomas' total is almost a typographical error: 25-under-par 263 with a finishing 4-under 68 after a course-record 61 on Saturday. Cantlay's runner-up total of 22-under 266 with a closing 7-under 65 would have won all but seven of the 116 playings of the Western Open / BMW. Hideki Matsuyama took third at 20-under 268 by throwing a second 9-under 63 in three days into the fight. And he was still five strokes back.

Tony Finau's score of 18-under 270, good for solo fourth place, was the winning score of Tiger Woods at the 2006 PGA. The ghost of Tom Bendelow, the original architect of No. 3, must be wondering what the royal and ancient game has come to.

Thomas moseyed about Medinah like it was a personal playground before 35,000 fans, but appearances deceived.

"I was really nervous driving to the course," Thomas said. "Time to put the phone away. Then the locker room guys giving me advice on how to finish off a tournament. I was like, 'I've done this a couple times, guys, but thank you.' It's a lot of the outside noise that makes it harder sometimes to stay focused."

Turned out having a six-stroke lead made him more nervous than a pot of coffee, and invited the world to offer a pat on the back.

"I had guys telling me congratulations on the front nine, on No. 13," Thomas said. "This tournament is far from over."

Thomas was 1-under on the front nine and even for the day after a bogey on the 10th hole, but hammered a wedge out of the right rough on the par-4 11th to two feet for a birdie he said "propelled me." He might have been too giddy given the next tee shot, but the big save steadied him and he played final final six holes in three under, sinking an 11-footer on the par-3 13th, a 4-foot, 9-inch putt on the par-4 15th, and a 14-footer at the par-4 18th, right after Cantlay closed with a 38-foot birdie.

Even that wasn't good enough the way Thomas could seemingly summon the ball to disappear when he needed to down the stretch.

"I think I needed to make the putts on 12, 14 or 15 if I really wanted to get some momentum on my side," said Cantlay, who birdied only the 15th, of those three holes, but missed a 19-footer for eagle after driving the green on the 291-yard hole. "Him saving par on 12 was big, and I tried to get one back on 13 (sinking a 15-footer for birdie) and he made it (from 12 feet) on top of me."

No. 2 Rahm knocks off No. 1 Johnson in unforgettable duel

By Tim Cronin
Reporting from Olympia Fields, Illinois

Yes, Jon Rahm really made that putt.

Yes, he did so after Dustin Johnson made that other putt.

When Johnson, whose 43-foot 3-inch putt snaked into the 18th hole on the final hole of regulation, tying Rahm at 4-under-par 276, couldn't make a 33-footer to equal Rahm's unfathomable 66-foot 5-inch birdie putt on the first hole of sudden death, the world No. 2 player had defeated the world No. 1 to capture the 117th Western Open / BMW Championship on Olympia Fields Country Club's North Course.

Even now, the replays don't lie. The legend grows with every showing.

It came down to the world's top two during a final round in which the wind laid down, the course was marginally more yielding to scoring – and still played over par as a whole – and five players, the only five to finish under par, had an opportunity to win.

Tony Finau had a shot, closing in 5-under 30 to post a 5-under 65, the second-best score of the week, but needed others to falter and ended up solo fifth at 1-under 279.

Hideki Matsuyama was right there, opening the final round tied with Johnson for the lead and hanging around until the end, finishing tied for third at 2-under 278.

Joaquin Niemann was there as well, climbing into a share of the lead with four birdies on the front nine, but managing no birdies, plus adding a bogey, in the final 10 holes. He matched Matsuyama at 278 and jumped into the top 30 to qualify for the following week's Tour Championship.

That left Rahm, from Spain by way of Arizona State, and Johnson, from South Carolina by way of Coastal Carolina, that football powerhouse. They just happened to be the top two players in the world ranking, Johnson marginally ahead, and bubbled up to the top of the scoreboard by virtue of equal measures of talent and tenacity.

Rahm was two groups ahead of Johnson, and thus in the clubhouse first after a bogey-free 64 that allowed him a few moments to contemplate victory before Johnson forced him back to the range and then back to the tee.

Johnson, seeking a third BMW title, birdied three of the first four holes to take control, then faltered with bogeys on the eighth and 10th before rallying with a two-putt birdie from 32 feet on the par-5 15th. As with Jerry Barber's 50-to-60 footer in the 1961 PGA, his left-to-right-to-left downhill putt at the last is one Olympia members will be trying and failing to recreate, along with Rahm's, for the next century or so.

The center-cut anaconda for 3-under 67 was witnessed by millions on NBC and maybe three dozen volunteers hanging around the 18th green on the final day of the no-spectator spectacle.

That was the unfortunate part of the week, thanks to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Back to the 18th tee he and Rahm went. Both made the 498-yard par-4 green in two, Johnson, at 33 feet distant and about pin-high, seemingly having the upper hand on Rahm, whose drive went into the right rough. The approach, with little spin on it, hit the green and rolled to the back left, cater-corner from the cup on the front right.

Rahm looked at it from every angle. Sane people thought just two-putting from 66 feet, down and across a two-tier slope that dropped two feet, would be an achievement.

No. That would have been failure in comparison to the reality of Rahm's perfectly-paced sweeping putt that swung right and disappeared, taking with it Johnson's heart.

"That stretch of waiting for DJ, him making the putt, going in the playoff, me making the putt, then trying to stay mentally in it just in case he made the last putt, it's been a roller coaster but so much fun," Rahm said. "If you're going to tell me I'm going to make a 66 footer to win a tournament I'll take that any day."

He made it. Really.

Cantlay survives six-hole sudden-death battle with DeChambeau

By Tim Cronin

Caves Valley Country Club is one of those places where members love to talk about the round that got away.

It's easy to do. The Tom Fazio design in Owings Mills, Md., scant miles from downtown Baltimore, is a challenging test up, down and across hillsides. Fazio said soon after the course opened that the layout was essentially dictated by the topography, that "it just so happened to fit here that the short holes were short and the long holes were long. And the long holes tended to be at the end of the round."

That routing made for great drama down the stretch of the BMW Championship. Down the stretch and past the finish line, in fact.

In a duel worthy of a Preakness Stakes, Patrick Cantlay and Bryson DeChambeau just couldn't play enough golf. After 72 holes, they failed to break the tie they were in following 54 holes of play. Each shot 6-under-par 66 on the rolling ground to settle in at 27-under-par 261, a stroke off the record Keegan Bradley and Justin Rose established at Aronimink in 2019. But whereas Bradley dispatched Rose with a par in one sudden-death hole, Cantlay and DeChambeau traded birdies like brickbats in a bruising playoff lasting six holes – long enough that the leather-lunged gallery ran out of beer – before Cantlay's 17-foot, 6-inch birdie fell into the cup the fifth time he played the 18th on Sunday, and DeChambeau's bid from 8 feet 9 inches to match fell short.

With that, Cantlay, for whom the phrase Happy Hour rarely applies, broke unto a big smile, basking in both the moment – the crowd was roaring – and the achievement.

Cantlay, who had pressured Justin Thomas down the stretch at Medinah in 2019's BMW, not only knocked off the previous year's U.S. Open champion in winning for the third time in the 2020-21 season, he jumped into the lead for the PGA Tour's playoff pot of gold.

How good was that? To Cantlay, it was great. He even liked the Patty Ice chants.

"I got it all week. There was maybe one or two guys that followed me around maybe all four days, and just every hole, screaming it," Cantlay said. "I'm as focused as I can be on every single shot, and I try not to let my mind get past the moment that I'm in, and maybe that's why I come across a little sedated out there.

"I just try and lock in and do my absolute best in that moment, and my best is pretty good."

Good enough to pile up 31 birdies and an eagle in the regulation 72 holes, then play the six playoff holes 2-under. He had to be that good to knock off DeChambeau, who used his power game to score 27 birdies and four eagles in the four rounds to match 27 under.

Cantlay's 21-foot birdie at the last in regulation forced the playoff. Over an hour later, with skies growing dark, he rolled in the 17-footer allowing him to hug the J.K. Wadley Trophy.

DeChambeau ducked reporters, but Cantlay was like Chatty Cathy.

"I thought the course was great theater, obviously," Cantlay said. "Lots of birdies and a great finishing hole. It was easy; I knew it was going to play easy and you were going to need to make a lot of birdies. When I was playing the practice rounds, I mentioned to the guys it's going to be well into the 20s, and that's just mostly to do with it being as soft as it was.

"I think this golf course would be very different if it was firm, but it's wide and there's not a ton of trouble, so it was a birdie-fest out there, and it felt like your foot was on the gas from the word 'go.' "

Go was everyone's mantra. The field averaged 68.449 strokes in the final round, and 69.203 strokes overall. The entire field finished under par.

Cantlay repeats, this time in regulation

By Tim Cronin
Reporting from Wilmington, Delaware

Patrick Cantlay isn't called Patty Ice for nothing. You could fire off an M-80 in his background and he wouldn't flinch. Sunday, Aug. 21, there were opportunities for him to flinch. His bogeys on the eighth and 10th holes that dropped him from the lead. The fine play of Scott Stallings in the group ahead that moved him into the lead. The ever-present threat from Scottie Scheffler and Xander Schauffele.

Finally, his tee shot on the 18th hole, which floated to the right and landed in a fairway bunker, overhanging tree branches blocking a direct path to the hole, tucked in the upper right corner of the green, on the uphill trip home.

"The ball was above my feet and I'm 160 yards out," Cantlay said. "I tried to slice an 8-iron as hard as I could."

Lesser players would have felt their throat tighten. Cantlay found a way. That big lower shelf on the left side of the green was the perfect target.

Cantlay hit it with his approach, then ran a brilliant 46 foot-7 inch lag putt up the ledge to five inches and tapped in for his second BMW Championship title in a row before nearly 30,000 lobsters at sun-baked Wilmington Country Club.

He's the first player since Nick Price to win the historically-named Western Open back-to-back – Price did so at Cog Hill in 1993 and 1994 – and the first to do so in any playoff extravaganza since they commenced in 2007.

His 2-under 69 for 14-under 270 beat Stallings by a stroke and Scheffler and Schauffele by three. And as much as the save at the last, the stroke that mattered wasn't in saving par, but making the birdie on the hole before that shoved him ahead of Stallings, who had never been close to or in the lead in a playoff tournament or a major previously, and who never went away.

Cantlay's drive on the par-4 hole landed in the jungle-thick rough and bounced over a bunker back into the fairway. From there, he carved a wedge to 5 feet 7 inches and sank the putt for a birdie.

"Maybe one of the best breaks I've gotten coming down the stretch, and when you get a break like that you need to pay it off, and fortunately I did," Cantlay said.

His unflappable nature served him well in last year's six-hole sudden-death playoff at Caves Valley with Bryson DeChambeau, and did so again this year, when he led most of the way rather than trailed.

For that matter, it also served him well in the Tour Championship, where, thanks to the handicap start, he started 10 strokes ahead of much of the field. Not particularly liking the concept, he realized he still had to play golf.

"I remember last year just trying to stay really in the moment, day after day," Cantlay explained. "I'll be two behind (Scheffler) this year, just trying to shoot under par each day and not losing sight of that."

The prize for winning the BMW was $2.7 million.

Stallings was in somewhat uncharted territory on Sunday. He'd never contended in a major or playoff tournament despite being a three-time winner on Tour. He held up in the heat, with four birdies and two bogeys, including a bird on the par-5 14th with a 50-foot two-putt after a bogey the hole before.

And at the last, needing a birdie to tie Cantlay, he dropped his approach nine feet from the cup. The putt just didn't go in, sliding by on the high side, mimicking his birdie attempt on the penultimate hole.

"Man, we read it exactly," Stalling said of his and his caddie's collaboration.

Record-setting Hovland humbles Olympia Fields and his peers

By Tim Cronin

Reporting from Olympia Fields, Illinois

Viktor Hovland knocked down everything but the Olympia Fields clock tower on Sunday. His 9-under par 61 on the club's famed North Course accomplished the following:

1. It vaulted him from a tie for fifth at daybreak to first place, bringing him the title in the 120th playing of the third-oldest championship in world professional golf. His total of 17-under-par 263 earned him a two-stroke victory over world No. 1 Scottie Scheffler and Matt Fitzpatrick. Rory McIlroy was fourth at 12-under 268.

2. It was a course record, relegating the 62s of Max Homa and Sam Burns on Friday and Saturday to second place in Olympia's history book, and the lowest winning round on the PGA Tour this season.

3. His closing 7-under 28 – eight 3s and a solitary 4 – matched the nine-hole record for the Western Open / BMW Championship.

4. It jumped him into second in the PGA Tour's points race, just behind Scottie Scheffler, who along with Fitzpatrick led Hovland by four strokes at the turn and saw himself passed like he was on a plow horse and Hovland was in an Indy car.

5. It earned Hovland pocket money of $3.6 million.

Not a bad way for a fellow born in Norway to spend four hours in a 91-degree cauldron with a 116-degree heat index as a sweltering gallery of about 30,000 watched.

The first of those achievements is the one that will be engraved on the J.K. Wadley Trophy and in the history books. The second and third make the mind reel. Early-week rains aside, Olympia Fields still was a test. Hovland aced it.

He made everything but an ace, or a deuce, oddly enough, on Sunday. But 13 3s overall will do. For the week, he made 22 birdies, an eagle and seven bogeys. And only one 2, a birdie on the par-3 13th on Friday.

Sunday's numbers were a story themselves.

The front nine: 443 433 534 – 33

The back nine: 333 334 333 – 28 for 61 and 263.

"To win at a place like this and amongst the best players in the world, making seven birdies the last nine holes, it's pretty cool," Hovland said. "I hit a lot of fairways and hit a lot of greens, and my putter just caught fire the last couple days.

"Here we are."

Hovland, with brilliant play on the back nine, chased Scheffler and Fitzpatrick for most of the round before sinking an 8-foot, 9-inch birdie putt on the par-4 17th set up by a 157-yard 9-iron to match Scheffler at 16-under. By this point, even with birdies on the 15th and 16th, Fitzpatrick, thanks to an ill-timed bogey on the 14th, where he failed to get up-and-down from green side rough, was at 15-under. He needed to go birdie-birdie on the last two holes, and could not.

Hovland needed to do the same, and did. On the 18th, he hammered a 157-yard pitching wedge to 6 feet, 7 inches and dropped it like a cold-blooded executioner. Then came this thought:

"I felt like I could win it outright," Hovland said. "Until then, I had no idea what was going on. I was just going to try to play well and keep making birdies."

Scheffler, playing two groups behind Hovland, bogeyed the 17th by three-putting from 22 feet after a blistering drive of 323 yards. The old saw "drive for show, putt for dough" comes to mind.

"Obviously kind of took me out of it," Scheffler said. "I felt I hit my line (on the left-to-right putt) and I look up and it just stayed on the right edge the whole time.

"It's definitely frustrating."

He also duffed a chip on the par-5 15th, though recovered for a par.

"It was just a little bump-and-run," Scheffler said. "The second bounce was the one that really got me. I thought I was going to one-hop it onto the green but it hit pop annua and kind of stopped.

"Viktor went out and just really beat me today."

And everyone else, including Fitzpatrick, who like Scheffler will have to console himself with $1.76 million.

"Can't do anything about 61," Fitzpatrick said, then grinned and said that when he grabbed him by the shouders, "I called him a little shit."

McIlroy, playing alongside Hovland, was impressed, though less profanely.

"I was marking his card (in the scoring room) and I'm like, 'Oh, you only made one 4 on the back nine, the rest 3s.' So it adds up to a nice little 28 for him," McIlroy said. "It was great to see. I sort of realized around 14, 15 something pretty special was happening.

"He just keeps his foot on the pedal."

As champions do.

The bubble bursts for a few

In the end, not even an opening pair of 66s could save Chris Kirk from falling out of the top 30 in the PGA Tour's points derby. He fell from 29th to 32nd, as Matt Fitzpatrick, whose tie for second in the tournament jumped him to 10th in the standings, climbed into the select 30 who play next week at East Lake.

Sahith Theegala, 31st at the start of the week, finished there thanks to bogeying the 18th hole. He was 30th until then, and that 5 moved Justin Spieth back into next week's money race.

Tyrrell Hatton, who tied for 34th at 1-over 281 thanks to a bogey at the last, thought he was dead with that 5. He barely got his second shot out of a fairway bunker, threw his club and watched it nearly conk him in the head. But he ended up 29th in the points race and so lives to play another day.

Hovland trivia: It was his second victory of the season, following the Memorial at Muirfield Village, and his fifth on the tour. He believes 61 is his lowest score, in competition or not.

Bradley wins one for the old man

By Tim Cronin
Reporting from Castle Pines, Colorado

This one was for Pops.

Because of his work, golf professional Mark Bradley had never been on site when son Keegan had won a professional tournament. Not even the 2011 PGA Championship. There was always a tournament to run or a lesson to give at Jackson Hole Golf and Tennis in Wyoming.

Sunday, that changed. Mark, who had been on hand numerous times when Bradley hadn't won, was inside the ropes at Castle Pines Golf Club as Keegan, pressed by Adam Scott and sundry others all the way, captured the BMW Championship for the second time in six years.

Bradley's closing even-par 72 for 12-under 276 beat Scott, Sam Burns and Ludvig Aberg by a stroke. A quartet including Xander Schauffele tied for fifth at 8-under 280.

Bradley's week was the stuff that dreams are made of. He made the most of being the 50th and final player in the field, leading after the first round, then hanging close enough to 36-hole leader Scott to be in the last pairing with him on Saturday, then taking a one-stroke lead into the final round, then playing gritty golf – his only birdies were on the first and 17th holes, both par 5s – to grasp the J.K. Wadley Trophy for the second time. He jumped to ninth on the Tour money list with $6,879,454.71.

"Last Sunday (after finishing early), I walked the range looking at people who were going to determine my future," Bradley said. "Then I went to my hotel, had the coverage on, had the iPad on the featured holes, and had to unplug my phone twice it had gotten so hot from me refreshing it."

In the end, Tom Kim's 6-6-6 finish in Memphis vaulted Bradley into 50th. Then it was off to the airport, and to Denver rather than home to Jupiter, Fla.

Scott hung with Bradley like a hunting dog pursuing a pheasant on the front nine, beginning with a 43-foot eagle putt at the first that brought him even with Bradley at 13-under and wowed the gallery of about 32,500. But three straight bogeys to open the back nine and too many visits to Castle Pines' deep bunkers cost him a chance at the title. But his joint second placed him 14th in the playoff standings, so he goes to East Lake with Bradley.

"Ten-11-12 kind of blew it for me there," Scott admitted. "I was in position with wedges on every hole and made three bogeys. That's almost unthinkable, really. I definitely struggled on the greens on the weekend. Just didn't quite have the confidence in some of those putts.

"I thought I played well off the tee today, which was nice, but just didn't take advantage from there."

Scott's unraveling began with a pulled 9-footer on No. 10, continued with a failed bunker save on No. 11, and accelerated with another failed save from the rough on No. 12. He played the final six holes 1-under, but couldn't catch Bradley.

Aberg tried to charge but three back-nine bogeys negated an equal number of birdies, while Burns, whose 7-under 65 was the round of the day, finished nearly two hours before Bradley and Scott, and watched the play with hope that fortune would fall in his favor. It did not.

"Overall it was a really, really good round," Burns said before the wait.

Bradley, who held the lead outright on the final eight holes, had a really, really good week, and at the best possible time, to annex his seventh career victory.

"In the pro-am on the 3rd hole, I hit this 6-iron," he recalled. "It was blowing harder than it blew all week, and I just absolutely flushed it, and it came out right in my window, and it just flew exactly the way I wanted it to. I was like, geez, that felt really good. To be honest with you, from that point on, I didn't really mis-hit a shot for four days, which doesn't happen a lot. I didn't putt that great this week, and I just struck the ball perfectly."

Bradley putted fine, with nary a three-putt and 31 one-putts in a 113-putt week that featured 21 birdies. He hit 41 of 56 fairways and 53 greens, right near the average for recent BMW champs.

He called the shot of the tournament his 227-yard 5-iron to 16 feet on the par-5 17th, setting up a two-putt birdie and a two-stroke lead going to the last.

"That 5-iron was as pure of a golf shot as I've ever hit," Bradley said. "I had 222 to the hole adjusted with the 10 percent, and I hit my 5-iron about 212 yards. It was a little downwind, but on the previous hole I hit 7-iron for 195 adjusted and it just went forever. I think I was a little jacked up.

"So we just decided to rip that 5-iron, and I hit it – I was aiming at the tongue of the bunker, and I hit it right there. It's one of those moments when you realize you can hit these shots in contention when it matters most, and to be able to pull that shot off – I mean, for me that was the shot of the tournament and a shot that I'll remember forever."

It certainly beat his tee shot on the par-5 14th, which he sliced well to the right. It was a couple of steps from going out of bounds and a couple of yards from behind dead behind a tree. Instead, he got a break champions often get, a window to punch out from the trees and scramble for a par.
