MEDICAL EXTENSION SUMMARY

If a player earns the points required to reach the top 125 threshold, he is eligible to play the remainder of the season out of the Major Medical category. If a player earns the points required to reach the top 150 threshold, but falls short of top 125, he is eligible to play the remainder of the season out of the 126-150 category, subject to reshuffle. If he does not reach either of these thresholds, he will fall back into the highest category for which he is eligible, or lose status.

Medical Extension storylines
Bronson Burgoon (Korn Ferry Tour Major Medical Extension) and MJ Daffue (non-exempt Major Medical Extension) are making their final starts at the ISCO Championship. Both players have Korn Ferry Tour eligibility should they not fulfill their medical.

Burgoon needs a 2-way T2 or better to meet his top-125 point total (would move to the top of the DP World Tour/Korn Ferry Tour/Q-School category). If he finishes worse than 2-way T2 but 2-way T30 or better, he would retain membership and move into the reorder category. If he finishes worse than 2-way T30, he will lose PGA TOUR membership.

Daffue needs a win to continue his PGA TOUR membership for the remainder of the 2025 season. For context on Daffue's "non-exempt" Major Medical Extension, he was competing out of the 126-150 category in the season which he was injured. As a result, he does not receive exempt status through his medical extension.

Ben Martin missed the cut at the John Deere in his final start on his Major Medical Extension and moved to No. 11 in the reorder category.
