Saturday – The morning and early afternoon will remain dry with partly cloudy skies. In the afternoon, a line of thunderstorms will be approaching the course. Currently thunderstorms look to reach the course around 5pm. Heavy rain, lightning, and potentially strong wind gusts are expected for roughly 2 hours after the front reaches the course. Behind the main line, light showers and isolated thunderstorms remain possible. Winds will turn from the southeast to the southwest throughout the day, but remain near 10mph. Temperatures will increase into the low 80s prior to any thunderstorms.
