Keith Mitchell (T1/-11)

- Making his first start since the FedEx St. Jude Championship (August 16)
- Holds 36-hole lead/co-lead for the fourth time on Tour; 1-for-3 to date (2019 Cognizant Classic in The Palm Beaches)
- A win on Sunday would mark his second PGA Tour victory and first since the 2019 Cognizant Classic in The Palm Beaches – a span of 7 years, 7 months, 8 days (2,779 days)
- Looks to improve his finishing position at this event for a fourth consecutive time (T27/2019, T21/2023, T10/2025)
- T4 at U.S. Open marks his best result among three top-10s in 23 starts this season
- Entered this week No. 53 in the FedExCup Fall standings and projected at No. 51; Nos. 51-60 in the final FedExCup Fall standings earning spots in the 2027 AT&T Pebble Beach Pro-Am and 2027 Genesis Invitational
- 15 birdies through 36 holes, most of any player in the field

Jacob Bridgeman (T1/-11)

- Holds 36-hole lead/co-lead for the third time on Tour; 1-for-2 to date (2026 Genesis Invitational)
- Earned his second PGA Tour victory at the 2026 Biltmore Championship Asheville in his 85th career start, his most recent start
- With a win, would become the fifth three-time winner this season (Wyndham Clark, Matt Fitzpatrick, Scottie Scheffler, Chris Gotterup); last time there were five or more players with three or more wins in a season: 2022
- Last player to win in back-to-back starts was Matt Fitzpatrick (2026 RBC Heritage, 2026 Zurich Classic of New Orleans)
- Won the 2026 Genesis Invitational, where he was the leader/co-leader after all four rounds
- Finished the season No. 4 in the FedExCup standings; one of nine players in the field who advanced to the Tour Championship
- In 24 starts this season, has recorded just one missed cut (PGA Championship) and totaled seven top-10 finishes
- Represented the victorious U.S. Team at the 2026 Presidents Cup at Medinah Country Club and became the second Presidents Cup rookie to clinch the winning point (Daniel Berger/2017)
