Extended forecast – Patchy fog will develop tomorrow morning but otherwise expect mostly sunny skies. Winds will switch to the northeast by late morning, and we will have a chance for sea fog that may roll in from time to time. Fog chances continue into Friday afternoon with winds increasing. Showers will develop over the mountains south of East Lothian in the afternoon and will move into our region after 6pm and continue into the evening. There will be a slight chance for a thundershower. Showers continue into the evening and for Saturday expect periods or rain, cloudy skies with areas of fog through early afternoon. Winds will increase with wind gusts up to 23mph. Winds ease on Sunday with morning clouds giving way to afternoon sunshine.
